County Help to Get Pay

County Treasurer Harding announced yesterday the sale of $750,000 worth of 1930 tax anticipation warrants to meet the December county pay roll.

Mr. Harding had told the county board the day before that he would undertake to raise the money for the pay roll before Christmas, and the sale of the warrants enables him to do so.

Salary checks for the first half of December will be given employees on Dec. 23, it was announced.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

The Strawn citizens' committee refused yesterday to approve of the proposed issuance of 1929 tax anticipation warrants by the sanitary district without a previous showing of necessity.

In the heyday of its waste and extravagance, the district had 4,600 employees, and is now reported to have about 1,040. The citizens' committee desires to know if even that number is needed.

"This committee believes, as you state, that the district will accord the committee every opportunity to make its own survey of the operations of the district to ascertain all of the facts so as to be able to inform the public whether, in the judgment of the committee, economies and reforms should be effected," reads the letter which the committee sent the district.

"The committee agrees with you that the confidence of the public in the district should be reestablished. That can only be done by a frank revelation of the facts so that the public may know, from an unprejudiced source, that the district is being economically managed."

Want Official Board Action. "This committee feels that it cannot approve the sale of tax anticipation warrants unless the sanitary district indicates that it is in accord with the views herein expressed. We (Trustees Ross A. Woodhull) and the president (Howard W. Elmore) have already given the committee that assurance, but we would like to have an expression of the board as such."

"It is that to be the policy of your committee toward the county, board of education and other local governments?" Mr. Strawn was asked after the letter to the sanitary officials was made public.

"I would not care to commit the committee," said Mr. Strawn, "but I should think that it would be."

What weight should be attached to your approval or disapproval of sanitary district conditions after the committee has investigated?" he was asked.

"Do you suppose that the banks will lend if the committee disapproves of the borrowing?" asked Mr. Strawn.

"I should not think that they would," Get Railroad Statistician.

The Strawn committee has accepted the services of Clifford F. Balch, chief statistician of the Chicago and North Western railroad, tendered yesterday by President Sargent. It also has taken over the staff of the Civic Federation and the bureau of public efficiency. Mr. Balch reports for service this morning and he will start work at the sanitary district as soon as the trustees accede to the demands of the committee.

The district trustees have authorized Mr. Woodhull, as chairman of the canal board's finance committee, to sell when and as needed $4,300,000 worth of tax anticipation warrants for the corporate needs of the district, and $9,000,000 to pay principal and interest on bond issues.

Of the sinking fund money the district will need $1,424,000 in January, to which the Strawn committee will probably not make any objection.

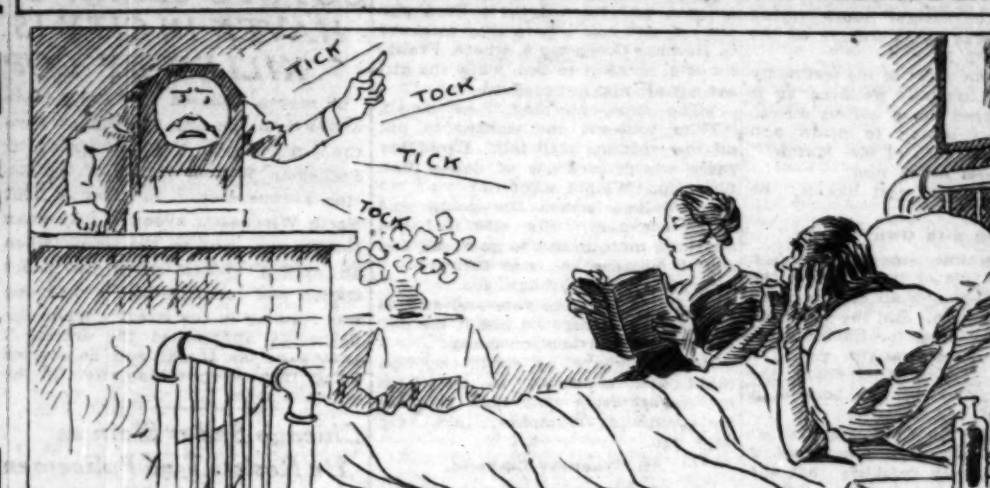

The board, according to Trustee Woodhull, needs $1,877,000 to take care of its corporate needs for December.

"This," says Trustee Woodhull's letter, "covers bills vouchered, pay rolls, power bills, etc., starting us off in January with a clean slate."

To pay these expenses of $1,877,000 and meet operating costs for January, February and March, the district intends to issue a total of $3,500,000 in tax anticipation warrants. It is in

SO. PARK BOARD PLANS LAST LINK IN SHORE SYSTEM

The south park board yesterday directed Supt. George T. Donoghue to prepare plans for the extension of the south park system from Jackson Park at 67th street to Calumet park at 92d street.

According to Mr. Donoghue, this new area, totaling 500 acres, will be the last link in a chain of parks reaching from the Indiana state line to the downtown district.

The project will involve filling in along the lake front, and accordingly will require agreements with the South Shore Country club and the Illinois Steel company regarding harbor accommodations.

Mr. Donoghue said he estimated that the cost will be between five and fifteen million dollars. It is probable, he said, that the work will be financed by a bond issue to be voted on in the spring, at which time the plans will be completed.

The commissioners also ordered preliminary plans made for the improvement of the Foster park area at 125th street and Lincoln boulevard and for the construction of a neighborhood there.

Britain-Africa Flyers Die in Desert Crash

(Copyright, 1929, by the New York Times.)
LONDON, Dec. 18.—The Fairway Napier monoplane, with which the British air ministry had hoped to win the world's long distance record with a 6,000-mile flight from Cranwell, Lincolnshire to Cape Town, South Africa, is a mass of wreckage in a Tunisian desert and both its young pilots are dead.

Native horsemen, riding in the desert, reported at Zaghouan today that the bodies found were those of Squadron Leader A. G. Jones-Williams and Flight Lieutenant N. H. Jenkins, who left Cranwell air-drome at 8 a. m. yesterday. They had arranged to communicate with the air ministry by a short wave wireless set every four hours. The last message received was at 4 p. m. yesterday, when they reported their position as 50 miles off the northwest coast of Sardania while flying toward the Tunisian coast.

It is believed, therefore, that the crash occurred some time between 7 and 8 last night for no message was received at the London headquarters after they had passed Sardania.

Carried a Big Load. The Fairway plane, fitted with a single Napier engine of 550 horsepower, was carrying an enormous load amounting to nearly seven and a half tons. It was this load, which caused the airplane to climb over the Atlas mountains, which stand at the entrance to the Sahara desert, which the airmen planned to cross.

The plane itself is a village on low ground, but near it is a mountain range rising to 5,000 feet.

Actually, the "ceiling" of the Fairway monoplane at this point, with its partially consumed load of gasoline, would have been about 6,000 to 7,000 feet, but it is probable the airmen had descended lower to fix landmarks.

RUSE BY WIFE OF COL. MORRIS FOILS THEATER ROW

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
PARIS, Dec. 18.—Col. Nelson Morris, scion of the Chicago packing family, wants to see the opening performance of "Good News" on Friday night because his wife, Jane Aubert, is starred in the production. But Jane is trying to divorce him, although he is opposing this move, preferring to stay married. But his condition on remaining married is that "she quits the stage."

Jane is fearful that Col. Morris will try to break up the show by making a demonstration, or packing in his friends to hiss and boo, so she and her friends have bought up all the boxes and the first twenty rows in the orchestra and her husband can't get a seat.

Next week ends the month granted by the court for Col. Morris to find another domicile, and he will be ejected from the handsome villa in the suburb of Vedinet, which is in his wife's name. In the meantime Jane is living in an apartment in Paris.

BANDIT ROPED BY VICTIMS AND GIVEN TO POLICE

Bound securely with rope, James Edwards, 27 years old, 2319 West 22d street, was dragged into the South Chicago police station last night by five truck drivers whom he had held up.

The bandit appeared at the plant of Swift & Co., 2919 Baltimore avenue, shortly after 6 o'clock as a line of drivers were preparing to turn in their day's receipts. At the point of a pistol he waved them all into the office of a watchman, Charles Roek, 1239 East 51st street.

"Go get some rope," Edwards demanded, pointing his pistol at the watchman. Roek turned as though to obey, then turned on his heel and landed a blow on Edwards' jaw. The bandit toppled over and was set upon by the drivers and trussed with the rope he had intended to use on his captors.

Here's a New One: Negro Is Shinghaied by Plane

RALEIGH, Dec. 18.—Pilot George Luckett got a surprise today when he saw the frightened face of a Negro appear before the window of an Isthmian Airways plane after he had risen several hundred feet. He assisted the unexpected passenger through the window to safety and recognized him as Isted Hill, a colored West Indian employee of the airways company. Hill had been working on a portion of the plane when Pilot Luckett, unaware of the fact, took off. Hill had recovered from his fright when he returned from Crisinal in a later plane to be greeted as a hero by friends who had seen him shinghaied.

M'Andrew Is Vindicated; All Suits Dropped

William McAndrew, former superintendent of the Chicago schools, won his long fight for vindication yesterday when Judge Hugo Pam quashed and overturned the action of the board of education ousting Mr. McAndrew from his office. That action was taken a year ago last March and was the culmination of the campaign of William Hale Thompson against the superintendent.

Now Judge Pam, in sustaining a writ of certiorari, finds that Mr. McAndrew was not insubordinate and that the school board was without authority to prosecute the "pro-British" charges against him—charges that constituted a large part of the Big Bill mayoralty campaign of 1927.

No Claim for Back Salary. Following the decision Attorney Francis X. Busch and Angus Roy Shannon, representing Mr. McAndrew, announced that he will not press his claim for $6,000 in back salary since exoneration was his sole aim in bringing the suit. In support of this position Mr. McAndrew's $250,000 libel suit against Mayor Thompson was dropped by stipulation before Chief Justice Taylor of the Circuit court after Judge Pam made his ruling.

The decision will not be appealed. This was assured by Attorney Frank S. Rightmeyer and Thomas V. Sullivan, representing the school board, when it was stated that no action will be taken to recover the back salary.

"The McAndrew case is dead," Attorney Rightmeyer said after making the stipulation before Judge Taylor. "There will be no suit against the mayor and no appeal from Judge Pam. It's all over."

Suspended in 1927. The famous case against McAndrew opened on Aug. 29, 1927, with his suspension on charges growing out of his opposition to school board members in their efforts to replace extra teachers with civil service employees. His suspension was a culmination of campaign promises of Mayor Thompson to "kick that stool, pigen of King George out of the schools."

On Sept. 29 the additional charges of contaminating school histories with pro-British propaganda, fostering anti-American courses of study, and unbecoming differences of opinion with teachers were filed. McAndrew's attorneys protested against these charges, asking thirty days to study them. This stand was overruled by J. Lewis (Iron Handed Jack) Coath, then president of the board, and the trial began on that day.

Twenty-seven hearings were held. More than 100 witnesses testified, many of them impeached by the mayor to bolster the propaganda charges, voiced chiefly by former Congressman John J. Gorman. Gorman recently confessed that he had testified without knowing whereof he spoke and apologized to Prof. David Saville Murray, Columbia university historian, whose textbook of American history he had attacked at the trial.

Found Guilty; Fights Back. A record of 6,000 pages was taken at the trial. McAndrew was found guilty of the charges by a vote of 8 to 2 on March 21, 1928, after his term of office had expired on Jan. 3. His attorneys immediately filed a petition for a writ of certiorari to review the trial and also filed the libel suit against the mayor.

This case opened before Judge Pam last Friday. McAndrew's attorneys announced that they expected to take three months in the trial if the court held that reading of the record was necessary. To shorten the trial the judge, by agreement of counsel, proceeded to rule on the first two of the ten points set forth in McAndrew's petition. These attacked the charge of insubordination and held the school board's procedure on the pro-British allegations contrary to law.

To terminate the dry subject matter the court has suggested a ruling (Continued on page 2, column 6.)

trying to put the trolley back on the wire when the accident occurred.

14 Hurt in Trolley Accident.
More than 200 street car derailments shook up passengers and tied up street car traffic but in only two cases were there any serious consequences. In one of these a Lake street car leaped from the rails at Kildare avenue and crashed into the steel upright of the elevated structure, injuring seven persons.

In the other, a westbound Belmont avenue car was derailed at Herndon street and crashed into a parked automobile before it slid against a telephone pole. Seven persons were injured, all of them seriously enough to be taken to the John B. Murphy hospital for treatment. C. Y. Perkins, 42 years old, 710 Aldine place, with a broken wrist, and Policeman Walter Lutz, 26 years old, 649 Birch place, with internal injuries, were the more seriously hurt.

The snow, which began before midnight on Tuesday, reached a depth of 4 1/2 inches last night, although the gale which blew incessantly throughout the day banked it against curbs and buildings in drifts several feet deep in places. It was as fine as powder and as biting as wind as the wind whipped it into the faces of pedestrians, and its very fineness added to the difficulties which it caused, as it sifted into railroad and street car tracks.

Wind Menaces Pedestrians.
Whirled about by the wind, it plastered windshields of automobiles and street cars and, at times, as the gale reached its height, it was impossible to see more than a few feet while the gusts of snow from the ground swept up into the storm. While the wind, usually, was from the north-northwest during the day, it made numerous unofficial excursions up alleys and around corners and doubled back on itself, sending the snow spinning in whirlpools and making walking hazardous for the pedestrians who ventured upon the streets.

The wind velocity at its maximum was blowing at a rate of 20 miles an hour at the University of Chicago, where the official observations were made, but at the Navy pier it reached 30 miles an hour for a few minutes between 8 and 9 a. m. and roared along at a rate of 47 to 50 miles throughout the day.

Raises Lake's Level.
The high wind, coming down upon Chicago from the upper lake, sent the waves towering over the shore and lifted the lake level steadily until the outer drives were awash in many places. In the Chicago river the level was 2 1/2 feet above normal at 2 o'clock yesterday morning, a rise of one foot since Tuesday, and by noon it had risen to 3 1/2 feet above normal, making it necessary to close bridges to open even for small tugs.

For a short time the snow banked along the shore line acted as barrier against the rising water and held the battering surf in check, but as the storm grew in fury the breakers beat down the icy breakwater and sent spray flying across the drives, the water freezing as soon as it struck the windshields of automobiles.

Water Over Roadway.
At 41st street, 18th street and 18th street on the south drive the water was over the roadway and in Lincoln park several spots were inundated by the waves. The water in the park lagoon was out of its banks and conditions there were described as being worse than during the October storm.

The same condition prevailed along the drive in the suburbs. In Evanston the waves coated Sheridan road with ice and in Chicago the water was barricaded to prevent motorists from venturing over it. The six block stretch of the drive between Greenwood street and University place also was closed because of the high waves.

While snow and waves were blocking the outer drives, motorists on downtown streets encountered difficulties almost as great. Automobiles that were parked in the drifts at the curb were stalled almost as hopelessly as if they had been on rural roads.

5,000 Work on Tracks.
Conditions were even worse for street car motorists, the fine snow packing into ice on the tracks under the pressure of automobiles and street cars. One hundred sweepers and 150

35 PUPILS MAROONED ON FARM AS SCHOOL BUS IS SNOWBOUND

Thirty-five Lake county school children were marooned last night in a lonely farmhouse near Sand Lake without food after the bus in which they were riding was snowbound in a gully nearby. Efforts to carry food to the children on horseback failed and two state snowplows were sent in their rescue attempt.

A third snowplow, sent out by the Metropolitan Coach company of Yankin, owner of the bus was fighting the snowbound bus with hopes of reaching the children by this morning.

The children were on their way from the Warren Township High school at Gurnee to their homes at Fox Lake and Lake Villa when the bus ran into an impassable drift. Before it could return to Gurnee the wind had covered it with snow and the children were taken to the home of George McFadden, a farmer nearby, and were waiting there for rescue parties to bring them food.

A bus loaded with Valparaiso school children ran off the road into a drift near Merrillville, Ind., yesterday afternoon and the children were forced to spend the night in Merrillville homes as the roads were impassable.

Snow plows worked all day yesterday and through the night, trying to clear the tracks, and 5,000 men were laboring to keep the lines open. Derailments tied up traffic on the main lines from one-half to two and one-half hours yesterday, although C. H. Evenson, superintendent of transportation, said that 85 per cent of the lines were open during the rush hour.

He estimated the cost of the storm to the Surface Lines at $100,000. Railroads were affected in the same manner, trains running into Chicago from 30 minutes to three hours late. Many trains which reached the yard limits approximately on time were delayed by the congestion inside of the city, where the snow had drifted across the tracks. Outbound trains were delayed in the same manner after leaving the terminals.

Most of the trains from the east were on time yesterday, but as the storm moved eastward last night, those arriving from eastern points began to run behind schedule.

Western trains encountered greater difficulty in fighting the storm, those inbound on the Soo Line running as late as an hour and a half. The Chief of the Atchafalaya, Topoka and Santa Fe was two hours late yesterday and is expected to be three hours behind its schedule when it reaches Chicago this morning. Engineers on the Chicago and North Western reported heavy drifts all along the line, with service 30 minutes to an hour behind schedule on inbound trains.

35 Workers Marooned.
The storm marooned between 35 and 40 men at the Adler planetarium, where they were at work, the high waves sweeping across the causeway leading from the mainland and making it impassable. Joe Benson, 4147 Prairie avenue, an electrician, led one party of six men across the wooden bridge at 4 p. m., but the others remained in the building, with no prospect of escape until the wind and waves subsided.

Air traffic was paralyzed in Chicago and throughout the middle west. Walter Bullock of the Midwestern Airways was the only pilot to weather the gale. He brought six passengers into the Municipal airport from St. Paul 25 minutes late. It was the first passenger plane to arrive at the airport in the last eleven days.

No mail planes landed at or departed from the city field yesterday, making the eighth day of inactivity for the air mail service in the middle west.

State's Traffic Paralyzed.
Outside Chicago the conditions were virtually the same except that the temperature was markedly lower to the northwest. Throughout Illinois the snow blocked automobiles, bus and street car traffic, and several cities were literally snowbound. The weight of the snow breaking down trolley and telephone and telegraph wires.

MURDERED? NO; JEST LIKKERED, CONNIE SWEARS

Takes Solemn Oath He's Not a Corpse.

BULLETIN.
Mountain View, Ark., Dec. 18.—(U.P.)—The Connie Franklin murder mystery went to the jury of mountain farmers at 10:05 p. m. After thirty minutes' deliberation failed to produce a verdict the jurors were ordered locked up for the night.

Mountain View, Ark., Dec. 18.—(Special.)—The man who says he is Connie Franklin today sat on the witness stand for several hours, trying to prove he was not murdered on the night of March 3.

Almost at the start of his testimony Franklin emphatically declared he is neither a corpse nor a corpse doppelganger. "I don't look or feel like it," he answered.

Confronted with Own "Bones."
Before Franklin was a little box containing a pile of bones which the prosecution claims is all that remains of Connie Franklin. But the four men who are being tried for having murdered and buried Franklin gained a point when a dentist testified the largest bone was the jaw bone of a dog.

Judge S. M. Bone, in his instructions to the jury, told them that if they believed even remotely that the man who testified today was Connie Franklin, they should give the benefit of the doubt to the defendants and acquit them. If they believed the bones in the box were the remains of Connie Franklin and believed the four defendants—with one other—killed him, the verdict may be either first or second degree murder.

The penalty for first degree murder is life imprisonment or death in the electric chair, at the jury's discretion, and for second degree murder, imprisonment for from 5 to 21 years.

Crazy? 'Twould Seem Not.
Folks hereabout say that Connie Franklin is "a little teched behind the head," but his replies to a severe cross-examination gave no indication of that today, except his own admission that he had spent some time in a state hospital for mental cases.

Franklin took the stand dressed in jumpers, badly worn work pants, a new flannel shirt, and the muddy wreckage of recently new "yaller" shoes.

His story, on direct examination, was one of love and hard liquor, of a lover's quarrel and a broken troth. He said that, with Herman Greenway, Hubert Hooster, and Alex. Fulk, three of the defendants, he started to Mountain View from their homes.

Object, Marriage.
Their purpose, he said, was to obtain a marriage license for himself and Tiller Rummier, the 17 year old girl witness, on whose testimony the murder case is based.

Some time in the party had a couple of jugs of moonshine. As the party jogged down the mountain road on their mules the men sampled the fiery liquor until all were drunk, there was some fighting, and he fell off his mule. He was unconscious for three or four hours, either because of the bump in falling or the booze.

When his head partly cleared, he went first to the Rummier home and then to Herman Greenway's home. That night he and Tiller started to the home of Fink Ford, a justice of the peace, to be married.

They stopped at S. H. Greenway's, and escaped in 1927. Asked why he concealed this fact, he said: "I didn't want the whole world to know who I was and that I had been in the insane asylum."

Mother Taken Staid.
Preceding Franklin to the stand were his mother, Mrs. Lily Baker of Clarendon, Ark., who said she had seen him infrequently during the last five years because of his desire to wander, and Mrs. M. M. Bryant of Humphrey, on whose farm he was working when defense counsel found him.

Following him were a dozen or so witnesses who traced his movements after he disappeared and until he reappeared months later. They were mostly farmers for whom or with whom he had worked. Their stories, taken together, accounted for every day of his absence between March and October. They were called upon by the prosecution to perform unusual memory feats, and the state made much of the fact that these mountaineers, who take a stranger in and ask no questions, could tell where Connie was from when he first arrived at their homes or where he was going.

Another lot of witnesses identified letters written by Franklin before he disappeared as being in the same hand writing as were samples he wrote today.

COYOTE SEEKING HAVEN IN CITY IS KILLED BY COP
A coyote, believed to have been driven into the city for shelter from the blizzard, was killed yesterday by Policeman William Runge of the Racine avenue station in front of 1001 North Winchester avenue. Policeman Runge was sent to the scene when an excited woman called the police station and reported that a mad dog was running in the street. When the policeman approached the animal it sprang at his throat and he started firing, three shots taking effect in the animal's body.

Chicago Sailor Slain as He Resists Two Policemen
Bloomington, Ill., Dec. 18.—(Special.)—Julian Rachel, 45 years old, a sailor, was shot and killed today by two policemen when he resisted arrest. One shot fired by Rachel wounded Policeman Leslie H. Larson in the leg. Mrs. Carrie Duell requested the arrest of Rachel. She declared he had threatened to kill her unless she married him. Letters found in Rachel's pocket indicated he intended to kill the woman and himself.

KILLED IN DESERT

Map shows where Squadron Leader A. G. Jones-Williams and Flight Lieutenant N. H. Jenkins of the British Royal Air Force were killed when their plane crashed in the desert. They were attempting to establish a new long distance record from London to Cape Town, South Africa. They had last been heard from by radio 50 miles northwest of Sardinia.

he said, and learned these Ford was away from home. Then they returned to Herman Greenway's, where, Franklin said, he went to bed, while the girl sat up all night, he added.

"The next morning," he said, "Tiller told me she wanted to put off the wedding until fall. I told her there wasn't any use of doing that. She said, 'Well, I'm through, too.'"

"I walked across the porch and called her over. She said if I had anything more to say to go ahead and say it, because she was through. I said, 'Well, I'm through, too.'"

"I walked out the gate and started after my cap where I'd lost it the day before, and just kept on going." He told where he spent the first night and continued to trace his movements from that time until he was found at Humphrey, Ark., ten days ago.

An Arkansas Lethario.
The cross-examination brought out some discrepancies in this story of a broken romance. Asked if he had a serious love affair with Tiller, he replied: "We just sparked a bit."

The prosecutor forced him to admit he had been married and had a family but said he had separated from his wife some years ago.

"Then why were you planning to marry Tiller Rummier the state's star witness on that night last March before you say you left St. James?" "How do you know I was aiming to marry her?" said the witness.

A Hint of the Gay Discoverer.
This peculiar love story was touched on by other witnesses, who said that when they asked Franklin why he had left the community where the supposed murder took place, he replied:

"I quit over yonder because I would not marry my gal." Franklin said his real name was Marion Franklin Rogers, but in recent years he had gone under the name of Connie Franklin. He said he was an inmate of the state hospital for nervous diseases for a few months.

McANDREW CASE IS OVER; COURT VINDICATES HIM

On the two points," Judge Pam said. "On the first point the court finds that the board of education and the superintendent of schools honestly differed on interpretation of the law regarding the duties of the superintendent. The superintendent was not insubordinate. The court might amplify on its decision, but does not believe it necessary."

"On the second point, which concerns the supplemental charges filed on Sept. 29 regarding the character of stories in schools, patriotic character of course of study, and questions of discipline, the court is asked to determine whether they are merely an amplification of the charges of Aug. 23 or whether they constitute new charges."

Judge Hets Aside Verdict.
"The court finds that these charges are not merely an amplification, but constitute new charges, for which 30 days' notice should have been given. According to statutes, the board of education was without jurisdiction to hear the matters of the additional specifications. Therefore, it is not necessary for this court to review the specifications to determine whether they held any truth."

"The verdict is quashed and set aside." The libel suit was dismissed for want of prosecution by Superior Judge Lewis last March, but was refiled a week later in the Circuit court. McAndrew complained against statements made by the mayor in a letter to commanders of American Legion posts denouncing the superintendent in Chicago schools. The case was dropped yesterday when the school board attorneys appeared before Judge Taylor after leaving Judge Pam's courtroom.

McAndrew was not present in either court. With his wife he is now sojourning in southern France.

VARISHED ESTATE OF $88,000 FOUND IN WOODEN LEG

(Copyright, 1928, by the New York Times.)
VIENNA, Dec. 18.—Because the consular official who was examining the effects of a Polish subject who died in Vienna had a wooden leg, the dead man's American relatives will be able to divide a fortune of $88,000. Noah Goldberg, a Pole, whose uncle is a New York rabbi, died in a Vienna hospital three years ago. Among his effects was found the sum of $800, which was used to pay hospital and burial expenses.

His American relatives, knowing he possessed a personal fortune, made inquiries in Poland, but found not a trace of it there. They appealed to the Polish consul in Vienna for an examination of Goldberg's belongings and it disclosed another $100.

Yesterday, however, the consular official, one Wieder, who had noticed an artificial leg among the property left by the dead man, decided to try it on with a view to purchasing it, since he himself wears a wooden leg. He accidentally touched a spring which disclosed the $88,000 in $1,000 bills.

GUARD CANADIAN ENTRY POINT IN HUNT FOR BURKE

Expect Killer to Try and Flee U. S.

Michigan state police under the command of Capt. Ira H. Marmon were searching at Ecorse last night for Fred H. Burke, who is hunted for murders and bank robberies in several states, to cross over into Canada at that point. Since the murder of Policeman Charles Kelly at St. Joseph last Saturday and the discovery that the slayer was the man hunted as the leader of the Chicago massacre, Capt. Marmon has been searching for him in Michigan while Chicago authorities are proceeding on the possibility he may be hiding here.

Capt. Marmon searched sixty vacant summer cottages at Ravenscamp, near the Paw, yesterday, and Deputy Commissioner John Steen and Chief Investigator Pat Roche were leaving today to search here. The three were in communication and were of the opinion Burke might seek a haven among the bootleggers on either side of the Detroit river. A woman rooming house keeper in Flint, Mich., told police there that a man she believed to be Burke had spent part of the day at her home.

Expects Early Developments. Burke received some information yesterday that made him hopeful of capturing the machine gun killer. Several of his men were on secret missions and he said last night he was expecting developments any minute.

Sheriff J. M. Haynes of Columbia, Ky., went to St. Joseph yesterday on the assumption that Burke was involved in the robbery of a bank in his city last spring in which one man was killed and another wounded. The sheriff obtained pictures of the Breckenridge, consort of Burke, a take back with him for possible identification as an accomplice.

Other officials were there, too, gathering data to take back to their own offices for evidence if Burke is captured. So many requests were received that it was certain that Burke's capture would precipitate a scramble for his custody and the opportunity of putting him on trial.

Sheriff Fred Bryant of Berrien county was putting together stray bits of information about Burke while the latest murder lived there and was known as Fred Dane. Bryant said that among Burke's visitors were Gus Winkler, hunted as one of the massacre party; Fred Getz, another Chicago murderer, and among others Ted Newberry, Chicago bootlegger.

Was It Was Newberry. When asked if he were not mistaken about Newberry, who is rated as one of the co-leaders of the Moran gang, and as such would be an enemy of Burke, he said he was not. Inspector Garvin of Detroit, listing Burke's associates in criminal enterprises there, mentioned one as Bob Newberry.

Col. Calvin Goddard, ballistic expert, arrived in Chicago yesterday and went into conference with Coroner Bundesen, after which they went to a laboratory to continue their experiments on the bullets brought from St. Joseph and fired through the machine guns found in Burke's home. They expect to establish positively whether or not Burke's guns were those used in the massacre. They will not be able to make an announcement for several days, Dr. Bundesen said.

Portes Gil Decides in Favor of Workers in Rail Strike

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 18.—(AP)—Striking employees of the British owned railroad connecting the capital with Vera Cruz tonight won their demands in the award handed out by President Emilio Portes Gil, who was named as arbiter of the dispute. He decided that the road must sign collective labor contracts under which it could select extra workers only from a list submitted by the unions. Moreover, the road must pay the wages of the strikers from the time of the stoppage on Dec. 7.

THE HAGUE, Dec. 18.—(AP)—Dispatches from the Isle of Flores in the Dutch Indian archipelago report that the island is suffering from a plague of mice which has destroyed all the crops. The inhabitants have fled to the woods, where they are starving in thousands. Hundreds have already died.

JAILED 3 DAYS, MURDERS 3 MEN TO GET REVENGE

Wounds Two Women and Girl; Boasts of It.

Romney, W. Va., Dec. 18.—(Special.)—Enraged by his arrest on a charge of violating the liquor law, Walter Crabtree, aged 28, shot three men to death in their homes here early today and wounded two women and a child. He was arrested by Corporal Ruckman of the state police and Deputy Sheriff Horne at his home while he was cleaning his shotgun.

The dead are H. C. Inskip, a justice of the peace; Ben Miller, turnkey at the Hampshire county jail, and Ed Wolford, a youth of 18.

A list of names taken from Crabtree included those of Inskip and Miller and was taken to indicate that the avenger intended to kill others. While he was intoxicated when arrested and boasted of his crime, the authorities do not attribute it to alcoholic frenzy.

Serves Three Days. Crabtree, described by the sheriff as a "bad man," was arrested last week on charges of intoxication and possession of liquor. He was arraigned in Justice Inskip's court, fined and sentenced to three days in jail. Wolford, according to the sheriff, gave the information which resulted in Crabtree's arrest. The slayer is reported to have boasted that he would be revenged on those concerned in his arrest.

According to county officials, Crabtree set out on his murderous mission early this morning. The Wolford home was the first he visited. He killed Wolford as the latter sat beside his father's sickbed and then fired at Mrs. Grace Wolford and a visitor, Mrs. Carrie Wright, wounding both slightly. Crabtree then went to the home of Mrs. Elaine Hott and slightly wounded her daughter, Mildred, aged 11. The reason for this attack is a mystery. The murderer then went to the home of Justice Inskip, who answered the door bell. As he opened the door Crabtree fired, killing his victim instantly. Miller met death the same way, being shot down as he answered a summons to the door at the county jail.

Crabtree then returned to his home, but again started on the warpath and went to the home of Dr. J. S. Easton. He knocked on the door, but the physician, who was treating Mrs. Wright, did not answer, and Crabtree fired a charge from his gun through the door. As news of the triple murder spread, public feeling became intense and Crabtree was removed to the Keyway, W. Va., jail for safe keeping. State police with machine guns are guarding him.

The sheriff's office said Crabtree has a long police record and had figured in numerous shootings.

PANAMA ENVOY FLIES IN RAGE AT U. S. CANAL RULES

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

COLON, Panama, Dec. 18.—Canal authorities today were investigating last night's rumpus at Cristobal docks when Panama's veteran envoy to the Vatican, Gen. Nicanor Obbario, who was returning from Europe, loudly denounced American methods and manners because the quarantine and customs officials refused him permission to land and meet his family when the steamer docked.

The quarantine held up the passengers until this morning in accordance with the regulations forbidding inspection after 10 p. m. unless arranged beforehand. Gen. Obbario, who has a diplomatic passport, kept abuse on the canal service officials as well as the United States and scored Gov. Galindo, Colon's governor, who came to welcome him and sought to smooth matters over.

Gen. Obbario called Gov. Galindo a "Yankee loving Panamanian" and threatened lawsuits. The governor then withdrew and hastened to Panama City to report the incident to President Florencio Arosemena.

WOMAN CHARGED WITH EXTORTION IN GIFT TANGLE

Stock Market and Love Complicate Case.

Mrs. Ada Shultz, wealthy business woman living at the Webster hotel, was accused of extortion yesterday in municipal Judge Max Luster's court. The accused was Mrs. Dorothy Appell, 1800 Chicago avenue, and in the recent court battle the name of A. A. Ziv, president and treasurer of the Western Screw Manufacturing company, figured prominently.

The following story was told at the court hearing: Mrs. Appell had known Ziv before her marriage to Howard Appell, a salesman. Ziv threatened suicide when she married Appell, she said, and continued to make love to her. She accepted his advances, she said, with the full knowledge of her husband and because she was engaged in speculation on the stock market with Ziv.

Revered Diamonds, Furs. Mrs. Appell, questioned by her attorney, Frank Cantwell, and Assistant State's Attorney L. J. Mandel, said she gave Ziv large sums of money to invest in stocks. He paid her the profits and part of the returns were in the form of jewelry and furs. She said she received in this manner a diamond solitaire ring valued at $1,150, a three carat ring worth $2,650, a $500 lesser ring, a $150 wrist watch and a $250 mink fur coat.

Recently, when Mrs. Appell was ill in the Passavant hospital, she testified, Ziv, representing himself as a constant state's attorney and three relatives from the state's attorney's office, visited her and threatened her if she did not return these gifts. Her husband, who was present, was finally allowed to part with the articles of jewelry and the fur coat mentioned above in addition to sign a promissory note for $482.

Mrs. Shultz Tells Story. The latter in her testimony gave this version: She said she was the divorced wife of Ziv and that they planned to re-marry. Under these circumstances, she declared, she was entitled to the gifts that Ziv had given Mrs. Appell. She said that any coercion had been used to get the gifts back.

Howard Appell testified that he had implicit faith in his wife. He insisted that further legal proceedings, versus in the nature of an alienation of affections suit against Ziv, would follow the present hearing. A letter from Ziv, who is 50 years old, written to the 38 year old Mrs. Appell, was produced. The manufacturer referred to Mrs. Appell as "my lovely, adorable darling." Ziv at present is in Florida, it was said. The hearing will be continued this afternoon before Judge Luster.

Urges Easton to Take Over Their School District

Residents of the College hill district of Miss Center yesterday petitioned the Evanston township high school board to take their district into the Evanston school district. A copy of the petition was also sent to E. J. Webb, superintendent of Cook county's schools. The addition of the district, which is bounded by Crawford avenue, the drainage canal, Greenleaf street, and Simpson street, would decrease the school tax rate without adding to the upkeep of the school, the petition contends.

Dr. Krol Vindicated in Illegal Operation Case

Dr. Francis B. Krol, 5414 South Aberdeen street, was exonerated yesterday of charges of performing a criminal operation upon Mrs. Bernice Kurteck, causing her death Oct. 5. The state asked Judge Francis E. Reilly that the case be held pro-se after testimony had been heard in which it was shown that Dr. Krol merely attempted to save Mrs. Kurteck's life after she had taken a patent medicine.

DENEEN REVIEWS WITH PRIDE HIS FACTION'S DEEDS

Says They're Reason for Group's Long Life.

BY PARKE BROWN.

Decided novelty of tone, something different from the vehement primary utterances of recent weeks, was noted in a speech made last night by Senator Deenen to about 200 men and women at a dinner in the Morrison hotel.

The session was behind closed doors, but according to the manuscript of his talk furnished to the press the senator did not even refer to alliances between crime and politics, to waste, extravagance or padded pay rolls, and he did not indulge in personalities for a moment.

Instead the leader of what is sometimes called the federal group in Chicago praised the record of his own organization, dwelling on the reasons he gave for its longevity, and boasting of its record while in power. His remarks were taken as an indication that factional hostilities probably are over until after the holidays.

President His Organization. A political party or group within a party, said Mr. Deenen, must have continuity as well as character and he attributed the long existence of his own organization to the use of confidence among its members, the character of its candidates and the services of the men it has elected to office.

"No other political group," he continued, "has been so free from scandal or of misgovernment by officials it has supported. It has stood for law and order and has supported progressive legislation and administrative measures to meet the growing necessities of the people."

Legislation and administrative measures to meet the growing necessities of the people, he said, were the group's main objective. "Our group took the initiative for hard roads in this state," he said, "and was steadfast in its support against great opposition and misrepresentation. Our group took the initiative in calling the general assembly of Illinois in extraordinary session and submitting to the people the amendment to our constitution for the development of the lakes to the Gulf waterway."

After reciting other advances for which he took credit for his group, Senator Deenen went on: "In short, nearly all of the progressive laws relating to agriculture, industry, and transportation enacted in the last twenty-five years were advocated and supported in the primaries and at the election and in legislative halls and administrative offices by the group of which we are a part."

Faces the Next Campaign. He praised the workers present for their part in the Republican primary victory of last year and then said: "We are entering upon a great campaign. The issues relate to honest and economical government. The schools, the police, fire protection, the agencies for health, and all municipal activities are affected. "Those who helped to bring about present political conditions are endeavoring to avoid the responsibility for their misconduct by the mere changing of names. They have no confidence in themselves and associates and promise the people that they will let others name their ticket. They ask the people to believe they will have no influence with the committee they will create to name their candidates."

But no evasion of responsibility or appeal to prejudice can obscure the results of misgovernment and those responsible for it."

What Fidelity Wants. President Faherty of the city board of local improvements announced yesterday that, having obtained from County Judge Jarecki a ruling that improvement bond issues may be placed before the voters at the April 8 primary, he will now ask a further decision whether his own measures may be placed on a ballot from which other bond issues will be excluded.

He said that he wants another referendum on the $24,276,000 needed for the widening of La Salle street and Western and Ashland avenues and wishes also to submit a proposal to issue $5,400,000 in bonds for two Ogden avenue bridges at Goose Island.

SLUG AND BOB ATTENDANT. George Bradshaw, 315 South Winchester avenue, an attendant at the Standard Oil Illinois station at 2300 North Crawford avenue, was slugged into unconsciousness early yesterday by a lone hand, who robbed him of $25.

BANKERS ESCAPE PRISON TERMS IN FAILURE SCANDAL

New York, Dec. 18.—(Special.)—The legal end of the scandal which surrounded the $5,000,000 City Trust failure was reached today, with no prison terms for any one except Frank H. Warder, former superintendent of banks, who is now appealing his conviction for bribery. He received a five to ten year sentence.

The last of the City Trust officers and directors indicted in Manhattan in connection with the failure of the bank went before Supreme Court Justice Tompkins today, pleaded guilty, and received suspended sentences or fines. None will be sent to prison.

They were Anthony di Paos, cashier; Frederico Ferrari, brother of the late Francesco M. Ferrari, founder and president of the bank; and Salvatore Sorace and Leonard Rose, directors. The first two received suspended sentences and the two directors were fined $250 each. They paid their fines immediately and were released.

At the same time John Burleson, foreman of the special City Trust case grand jury, announced that no further action was contemplated against former General Sessions Judge Francis X. Mancuso and six other directors, who were indicted for participating in the insolvency of the bank, but whose indictments were later quashed on constitutional grounds by Justice Tompkins.

Christmas—Christmas Gifts—

Here are some thoughts about 'em! Thoughts that will increase your reputation for thoughtfulness, come December 25.

A man's store is the safest place to buy masculine gifts, and the selections in our stores are backed by half a century of experience in catering to what men want—not what maybe they'd like. We leave the white elephants to the zoo.

Every man owns a motor these days, even if the installment payments are a bother. Cheer him with something to warm the cockles of his heart as well as his legs. A motor robe will do the trick.

Yes, it's possible to buy ties for husbands that they'll like, comic papers to the contrary. $1 to $7.50 proves it here.

Or maybe he'd rather have something to hold his clothes and not hurt 'em, like the Wardrobe suitcase shown above, finished in black caracul. The cost's the same as the plush rug, $27.50.

Else this husky "Gladstone" of brown cowhide, 22 inches long, $25.

Slippers never seem at home in a suitcase, except these Pullman kind that fold up and fit in a matching leather case that will go easily in your pocket if necessary. $4.

If he travels so fast he can't stay to tell you what he'd like, send a Gift Certificate after him. Then he can do his own picking in your name.

If it's a case of wanting to pay less, $10 gives you one of these warm plaid rugs, equally at home in a car.

Of course it may be easier to throw toilet articles loose in a bag, but it's safer, quicker and neater to keep 'em together in their own leather case. The ebony fitted outfits in black boar grain cowhide cases are $13.50. Others up to $50.

YANKEE BOOSTER ENTERS RACE FOR HAITI PRESIDENCY

Chevalier, Ex-Postmaster General, Candidate.

BY WILLIAM LAWSON.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti, Dec. 18.—(Special.)—The formal declaration of Andre F. Chevalier, former postmaster general of Haiti, that he is a candidate for president has increased the number of avowed aspirants to six. He is generally regarded as the leading candidate for the office.

Chevalier insists that he is not of the radical elite, boasts of his pro-Americanism, and lauds the accomplishments of American occupation, which has virtually erased barbarism from the island republic in fifteen years. He has pledged he will urge a new and modified constitution for the United States if Haiti is not able to stand alone in 1936, when the present pact expires.

May Be Many More.
Other candidates already in the field are: Seymour Pradel, provisional president of the so-called Union Patriotique Acadol organization; R. C. Auguste, local editor; Daniel B. Borge, lawyer officer of the Union Patriotique; Abel Loyer, and Stanislas Vincent.

Others are expected to announce themselves before the January elections, when the first constitutional congress since 1917 will be convened to select a successor to President Louis Borno. The latter was re-elected in 1924 by the council of state, regarded as a self-appointment.

It has been known for months that Chevalier, decorated veteran of military and of the Haitian gendarmerie, would enter the race. On Dec. 15 he resigned as postmaster general to accept the position of minister to Great Britain, offered by President Borno. Chevalier rejected the appointment, declaring it was a trick to get him out of the country until after election.

Declares He's Pro-American.
"I am pro-American and I always have been," said Chevalier, who speaks English. "I know and have seen the wonders that the United States' occupation has accomplished for the country generally. It is my opinion that Haiti should always maintain such relations with the United States so that its help may be available in case it is needed."

"If in 1936 it is found that Haiti is not ready to go forward alone, I believe that responsible Haitian leaders should and will agree upon another arrangement, perhaps a modification of the present treaty, insuring Haiti the continued assistance of its best friend, the United States."

Chevalier attributes much of the radical criticism of American occupation to the fact that the radicals claim it has been compelled to support President Borno and his administration. Chevalier's friends confidently say that radical candidates will ultimately withdraw in his favor against the common foe, President Borno.

Editor Expresses Views.
Among them is Placide David, publisher of La Presse, the most influential anti-Borno daily in Port au Prince. He is generally recognized as a radical who, while freely criticizing certain practices of American control, holds, in contrast to the more violent opposition, that the United States should not withdraw from Haiti until a stable government has been firmly established.

DEMOCRATS LOSE IN MICHIGAN CITY ELECTION BATTLE

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 18.—(Special.)—The Indiana Supreme court today ended the controversy over Michigan City's recent municipal elections by dismissing an appeal brought by Democrats from a decision ordering names of Republican candidates placed on the ballots.

The court held questions in the appeal were moot and that no public questions were involved that required a decision. Thus Republicans who were elected will continue to hold office, it is understood.

The controversy began when a mandate was issued ordering names of candidates of both parties placed on the ballots after Democrats had filed a petition for an injunction. But Republican names, alleging the candidates had filed improperly.

Arthur L. Gilliom, former Republican state attorney general but representing the Democrats, appealed to the Supreme court three days before the municipal elections. The court ordered the names left on until a decision was reached. After the elections, which the Republicans won, the Republicans sought to have the whole case dismissed, but later withdrew the motion.

House Votes Haitian Inquiry; De Priest in Maiden Speech

BY ARTHUR CRAWFORD.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 18.—(Special.)—President Hoover's request for authority to appoint a commission to investigate Haitian affairs won approval today in the house. The debate on the Negro republic gave Representative Oscar De Priest (Rep., Ill.), the only Negro member of the house in a quarter of a century, an opportunity to make his first speech. He invited southern Democrats who had denounced American imperialism to show as much solicitude for the black people of Haiti, he said, as they wish to God they were equally solicitous about the black people of America. We in America would like, in some of the states of this country, to have the right of self-determination also.

What About U. S. Negroes?
"The people of Haiti should have the right of self-determination under the broad principles laid down by our constitution and under the theory adopted about the time of the settlement of the world war."

"This would apply to Haiti and also to every other class of people that God's sun shines on. I am glad to see the gentlemen on the minority side of the house converted to the right way of thinking for once in their lives, because I appreciate the conditions of the black Americans who are denied the right of self-determination in almost every state south of the Mason and Dixon line. I congratulate the gentlemen for starting in right in Haiti and conceding the common people the right of self-determination and have it will spread to every state in America, and that we will all enjoy the same rights and privileges."

Representative Huddleston, in opposing the resolution, said that a commission would be able to obtain no information not already available. The effect, he said, would be to give an excuse for failure to hold an election for a new president of Haiti next month.

It is expected that the resolution will be acted upon by the senate before the end of the week.

De Priest's Day to Shine.

Representative De Priest advocated adoption of the resolution and strongly commended President Hoover. He urged appointment of a Negro on the commission. His speech attracted members who were outside the chamber in the cloak rooms, and before he finished he had a good sized audience. He spoke for nearly 15 minutes and was applauded when he concluded. His thrusts at southern Democrats made members of the minority

CHINESE REVOLT CRUSHED; REBEL ARMY SCATTERED

Chiang Admits He Was at 'Brink of Collapse.'

SHANGHAI, Dec. 18.—(Special.)—President Chiang Kai-shek announced today that loyal forces had broken the back of the rebellion which recently brought the Nationalist government to the brink of collapse.

The revolt, however, Marshal Chang said, was the most serious crisis which the government had experienced. For a time, he admitted, "our fate hung by a single hair—the loyalty and bravery of officers and men of the Nationalist army, whose courage never faltered."

Rebel Commander Flees.
Asserting that rebellious and mutinous troops had been crushed in widely separate areas, the Nationalist military headquarters stated that the Fukow mutineers, whose numbers had reached many thousands as they threatened to march against Nanking, had been dispersed by Nationalist troops and the insurgent commander, Gen. Shih Yu-shan, was fleeing toward the western part of Anhwei province. Nationalist troops, said advisers from Hankow, were driving northward through Honan province and were expected to end quickly the revolt under Yang Sheng-shih, mutinous Nationalist general.

Chiang Kai-shek.

Badly defeated by government troops, the Kwangsi province rebels and mutinous "Ironside" division troops were scattered and their menace against Canton had ended after they had penetrated to within a few miles of the city.

Communist or Red troops, however, continued to prey upon unprotected areas, which they looted. The government has dispatched 1,000 soldiers from Wuchang to break up a formidable organization in Hupeh province. The communists were believed to have units throughout the Yangtze valley, and were expected to give the government serious trouble before dispersed.

HOOVER QUOTED IN CUBAN SUGAR TARIFF HEARING

Letter Names Executive at Lobby Inquiry.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 18.—(AP)—President Hoover was represented as having sought to bring members of the House ways and means committee and representatives of Cuban sugar interests together during consideration by the committee of the proposed tariff bill in a letter introduced today into the record of the Senate lobby committee.

Another letter named Gen. Enoch Crowder, former ambassador to Cuba, who favors a low sugar duty, as having prepared a memorandum on limiting sugar imports from the Philippines, and as having learned "that the plans of the general staff provide that in case of war any attempt to keep a traffic lane open between the Philippines and the United States would be promptly abandoned."

Both communications were written by H. C. Lakin, president of the Cuban company which deals in Cuban sugar, who was testifying when they were presented.

Letter from Files.

The first purported that the President had instructed Walter Newton, one of his secretaries, to establish the contacts. It was written last April to Messrs. B. Starring of New York, president of the California and Pittsburgh Utilities corporation, and was taken from Lakin's files by a lobby committee investigator.

Lakin expressed the belief that nothing had been done in the matter of the contacts. This letter read in part: "Several members of the committee have appealed to President Hoover and he has instructed his secretary, Mr. Newton, to establish a contact between the committee and ourselves. 'I understand that some suggestion of this came from individual members of the committee. We are to be a little doubtful about this step, but in the end, of course, have to do what President Hoover desires, especially as he seems to be genuinely interested in our cause.'"

Refers to Sliding Scale.

Lakin, who was the only witness at today's hearing, said he thought the reference was to negotiations for a sliding scale, which was suggested as a means of solving the problem of what duty to place on sugar in the tariff bill.

"That is to say," Senator Walsh (Dem., Mont.) put in, "that Mr. Newton was to bring you and some members of the committee into contact with each other, so that you could discuss the sliding scale with them. Is that the idea?"

"Well, I am confused about it," Lakin replied. "I can't carry that language."

"Well, it is your own language," Walsh commented.

"But it was written a long time ago."

Lakin for Low Duty.

Lakin, who has been the witness for several days, has testified that he has been active in advocating a low duty on sugar. His company has extensive sugar holdings in Cuba and Lakin employed Edwin P. Shattuck

New York attorney and friend of President Hoover, to assist in the low sugar duty campaign.

"The President gave directions to his secretary to do certain things and they were not done," Senator Walsh inquired.

"I am not sure that it was done. I don't remember anything," Lakin replied.

Letter Mentions Crowder.

The letter mentioning Crowder was written to M. C. Rionda of the Chamkew-Elmda company of New York. Referring to the former ambassador's memorandum on limiting Philippine sugar imports and the purported information about war plans of the general staff of the army, the document said:

"We plan to use this memorandum and this information when we can do so to the best advantage—probably after the matter gets into the Senate. We are inclined to believe that the secretary of war would support Stimson, because any limitation on exports from the Philippines would tend to create political disturbances in the Philippines and increase the work of the war department."

Clerk's Ruse Traps Robber in Second Trip to Store

The quick wit of Joseph Dowd, clerk in the Wacker Drive Smoke shop, 219 North Wabash avenue, resulted in the capture of a holdup man yesterday. Dowd was held up by a man with a revolver in the shop. He warned the man that a policeman was in the rear of the shop and the bandit fled. Later, the robber returned, to find a policeman, called by Dowd, waiting in the store. The man was arrested and gave his name as George Elliott.

AUTHOR INDICTED FOR LYING ABOUT PLAY TO SELL IT

New York, Dec. 18.—(AP)—Charges of grand larceny brought against Irving Kaye Davis, 29-year-old playwright, by two persons who backed his play "Vells" and lost money, were dismissed today. He was immediately rearrested under an indictment accusing him of making false statements to sell stock in a play.

The grand jury indictment charged that Davis, to effect stock sales, falsely asserted that former Gov. Alfred E. Smith and John J. Raskob were interested in the success of his play and that Lee Shubert, theatrical manager, and Adolph Zukor, motion picture magnate, wanted to invest in it.

DISTILLING COMPANY HEAD FINED $5,000 IN LIQUOR PLOT CASE

New York, Dec. 18.—(Special).—John Wesley Parker, president of the Overholt Distilling company of Bradford, Pa., entered a plea of nolo contendere in the federal court, Brooklyn, today when arraigned on an indictment which charged him with being part of a conspiracy to violate the prohibition law. The plea was accepted and Parker was fined $5,000.

Other indictments against the Overholt Distilling company and John Wesley Parker Jr., son of the defendant, were dismissed.

Parker and the corporation were among a group of 170 persons and firms indicted by the Brooklyn federal grand jury in its investigation of the so-called Glickstein and Turner conspiracy case. Persons allegedly having addresses in all parts of the country were involved.

JAPAN AND U. S. DIFFER SHARPLY ON SUBMARINES

Contact Only Emphasizes Divergent Views.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
Washington, D. C., Dec. 18.—(Special.)—Three days of official contact between the Japanese delegates to the London naval reduction conference and Washington officials have served to emphasize the sharp differences of opinion held by Japan and the United States on the subjects of cruiser and submarine reduction.

It was learned here tonight that the Japanese program, revealed to American officials, calls for retention of 78,000 tons of underwater craft now in the Japanese fleet or under construction. As the United States has but 27,332 tons of submarine built, building, and appropriated for, acceptance of the Japanese proposal would give Japan virtual parity with the United States.

As the United States is anxious to sharply reduce her submarine tonnage and there are some indications the cruiser demands by Japan may be modified, the Japanese submarine proposal now furnishes the chief obstacle to an accord between the two powers.

Naval Officials Opposed.
American naval officials, especially, are opposed to permitting Japan such a large submarine force. One big reason for the navy's opposition lies in the fact that possession of a big submarine navy, together with numerous naval bases, would give Japan control of the Asiatic trade routes over which the United States must transport its supplies of tin and rubber, raw materials not produced in sufficient quantities in this country, but absolutely essential to the prosecution of a successful war.

The Japanese still are asking a 10-7 ratio for all auxiliary craft, including big gun cruisers of the Washington treaty type. It was learned today that the Japanese spokesmen yesterday gave Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson grounds for hope that Japan might eventually agree to reduce her cruiser demands somewhat. If such a modification were made, however, it probably would not come until after the other powers had stated their positions at the London conference.

Some Sacrifices Possible.
Japan's position is that while she would like to have a 10-7 ratio with the United States on all auxiliary craft, she would be willing to make some sacrifices in either destroyer or cruiser tonnage in order to maintain her present submarine strength. While it was not made clear, it was indicated that Japan might even cut her demands for big cruisers slightly in order to gain her point on the submarine argument.

The last formal meeting between Chairman Stimson and the American delegation and the Japanese delegates will take place tomorrow morning. This meeting will be attended by former Premier Redfarn Wainwright, chief Japanese delegate; Admiral Takahashi, second ranking delegate; Katsujir Dehuchi, the Japanese ambassador; Dwight W. Morrow, American ambassador to Mexico; Senator David A. Reed (Rep., Pa.), and William C. Clegg, the new ambassador to Japan.

Adams Not Included.
Three American delegates, Stimson, Morrow, and Reed will be present but Secretary of the Navy Charles Francis Adams apparently has not been invited.

Navy Disarm Pact Must Have League O. K., France Decides

BY HENRY WALES.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

PARIS, Dec. 18.—The chamber of deputies' commission on foreign affairs and naval matters, sitting today, today approved the government's viewpoint that all results of the five power conference in London next month be considered merely tentative and be submitted to the league of nations' disarmament commission for consideration of their possible incorporation into a general disarmament program.

In his usual persuasive manner Foreign Minister Briand detailed the cabinet's views, making it clear, however, that a great many developments are possible between now and the time the five power conference is called in London. He read communications exchanged with London over the submarine issue and documents on the naval parity discussion with Italy.

The greatest discretion was observed and the telegraphers were ordered to take no note. Briand was willing to open the files he made sure that no communist members of the commission, who certainly would broadcast what they heard, were present.

Party Talk Barred.
When S. Grumbach, radical deputy from Alsace, asked point blank if the government was harboring the intention of granting Italy parity after all, the commission got nervous and decided it had better not talk about these things lest it add fuel to the flames of controversy between Paris and Rome.

Premier Tardieu interrupted to clarify a point here and there as M. Briand explained: First, that France had accepted the theory of limitation on the basis of global tonnage instead of categories; second, France was demanding the right to devote as high a as his name does not appear on the list given to the press by the state department.

Secretary Adams, the only naval representative on the American naval delegation was not invited to attend yesterday's conference and his absence has caused some comment. State department officials have declined to give any reason for not including Mr. Adams in the group of American officials who were invited to meet the Japanese delegates at the home of Secretary Stimson yesterday.

The Japanese delegates together with eight other Japanese officials were the guests of President Hoover at a formal White House dinner tonight.

ROBBED IN FRONT OF HOME.
Harry M. Johnson, 3246 Thomas street, was about to enter his home yesterday when two men drove up in an automobile and robbed him. When he walked to the car, the men threatened him with a revolver and robbed him of $40.

The last formal meeting between Chairman Stimson and the American delegation and the Japanese delegates will take place tomorrow morning. U. S. NAVY BY FAR BEST IN WORLD, BRITISH "PROVE"

Claim Hoover Yardstick Bares "Propaganda."

BY JOHN STEELE.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

LONDON, Dec. 18.—What are described as "yearbook" revelations were made today by the naval correspondent of the Daily Telegraph concerning the relative strength of the British and United States navies. The correspondent says that the delegates from the United States to the five power naval conference are bringing with them a series of charts, graphs, and tabulated data representing the American conception of the "yardstick" for measuring the relative naval strengths.

On the basis of the data compiled by the American delegates, the correspondent says, it is demonstrated that the British navy is far from being superior in strength to the American navy and is, in fact, greatly inferior.

In most of the important elements of sea power the United States navy is far from being below the Washington treaty ratio," the correspondent says. "It is well above that ratio and is, in effect, vastly superior to the British navy in every category save that of small cruisers."

The correspondent underlines that these revelations have "deeply impressed the members of President Hoover's cabinet and other American statesmen who previously had accepted the view, carefully fostered by propaganda, that the American navy is below the treaty strength and badly outclassed by the British navy. It is an ironical circumstance that these disclosures have emerged from the work of American naval officers who were, of course, anxious to make out the case for a larger ship building program."

What Figures Show.
The correspondent gives a synopsis of some of the figures he says the American delegates are bringing to London, which show:

	United States	Great Britain
Battleship guns	192	168
Eight-inch guns	135	120
Destroyers	270	190
Destroyer torpedo boats	2,468	824
Submarines	134	82
Submarine torpedo boats	519	253
Total officers and men	113,000	101,000

The American figures, says the correspondent, further show that in the six inch gun cruiser class the United States navy has not a single ship to compare with ten American vessels of the Omaha group, each mounting 12 six inch guns.

"How to Propaganda."
Outside naval circles, few people in the United States are aware of the enormous strength of their navy in comparison with that of the British navy.

FRENCH DEBT FUNDING PLAN RATIFICATION IS SIGNED BY PRESIDENT

Washington, D. C., Dec. 18.—(Special.)—President Hoover closed a long chapter in international relations this afternoon when he signed the bill, just passed by congress, ratifying the Mellon-Brewster agreement for funding the war debt of France to the United States.

Under the agreement the French republic will settle its indebtedness of $4,235,000,000 through the purchase of a total of $2,547,474,104, representing principal and interest at 2.17 per cent, in annual payments over sixty-two years, beginning Jan. 25, 1932.

The war debts of Russia and Armenia are now the only ones remaining unsettled.

gun power, torpedo vessels and submarine craft," the correspondent says. "The disclosures resulting from the yardstick inquiry will be a severe blow to big navy propaganda. The truth is that the magnitude of the American naval armaments have been deliberately and consistently minimized by interested parties."

In dealing with the aircraft ratio, the correspondent says that in application of air power to naval uses, the United States is so far ahead of the other nations that comparisons are hardly practicable.

"American navy," he says, "now has between 700 and 800 effective aircraft and will soon possess 1,000. In ratio of naval aircraft, the United States is now superior by 10 to 1. At the present rates of expansion, America by 1932 will have a ten to one preponderance in naval air armament."

SUPPORT ISSUE IN DIVORCE CASE UP TO DOCTOR

Superior Judge Sabath yesterday ordered Charles Mitchell and his estranged wife, Mrs. Myrtle Mitchell, 25 years old, 2535 Wilcox avenue, to be examined by a physician to determine which of them shall support the other pending the granting of a divorce decree. Mrs. Mitchell appeared in court to demand temporary alimony.

Mitchell contested her motion by declaring that he had lost forty pounds since their separation. He said that he had weighed 180 pounds on the day of his marriage and that because of his loss of weight he is unable to work. He expressed a desire to return to his wife. The Mitchell separation suit Nov. 5.

Mrs. Mitchell said she, too, had suffered through her domestic strife. She refused to return to her husband. Since both litigants claimed ill health the judge ordered the examination. The healthiest one will have to support the other, he said.

"Hello! Hello! How Much Does Happiness Cost?"

Only the price of learning a simple health rule, this smiling youngster finds!

HAPPINESS just radiates from our baby since we began giving her—

What was it that Mrs. Fred E. Schmitt of 2023 Stone Street, Falls City, Nebraska, discovered, which she could give to her baby that made her happy, well, strong and buoyant?

Not a medicine; not a drug of any kind; just harmless bodily lubrication. Only that, and nothing more. Mrs. Schmitt's discovery that little Barbara kept well when she was made regular as clock work is the same discovery as has been made by millions of other people, who are enjoying the happiness of health because they use Nujol.

Babies, old folks, people in the prime of life—all alike need to have the bodily poisons (we all have them) regularly cleaned out. Drugs, cathartics, pills, all they do is irritate the body and you have to keep increasing the dose. Nujol works in an entirely different way. It is not a medicine at all. It just gently, naturally, normally lubricates the actions of your body, which needs lubrication as much as any other machine.

We have just had over five thousand letters from people all over the world—and all of them discovered this same way to be well and happy. Do you think so many people can be wrong?

Please remember that Nujol contains no drugs; is non-toxic; is not absorbed in any way by the body; can form no habit; cannot hurt you, no matter how much you take. All it can do is keep you internally clean, and make you continually feel better. Colorful, tasteless as pure water, Nujol will make you see the bright side of life; it will help you to get the most out of your life; it will make you wake up in the morning feeling fit, and help you to do a good day's work with a smile.

Millions of people have discovered this fact—why don't you? You can buy Nujol in sealed packages at all drug stores. It costs but a few cents, and makes you feel like a million dollars. Get a bottle today and see how brimming health will boost your day's happiness.

MEXICO WHOOPS
IT UP AS CALLES
RETURNS A 'HERO'

Former President Gets Huge Reception.

BY JOHN CORNYN.

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 18.—More like a conquering hero than one who had retired from politics, former President Calles returned to Mexico City at noon today. All along the route from Lareido, Tex., friends joined the former president's train. Over 100 guests, in addition to those who accompanied him from New York, were included in the homecoming party.

Anticipating unmanageable crowds at the station, Gen. Calles' friends took charge, permitting entrance to the station only by ticket. Many thousands, including former federal employees under the Calles administration, political backers, and a vast mob of curious, gathered at the station as soon before the arrival of his train.

President Embraces Calles.
As the train steamed in, President
Portes Gil, Gen. Joaquin Amaro, minister of war, Mexican generals, deputies, government officials, and members of congress raised a shout of welcome. The crowd took it up and echoed the cheers for a half mile back along the line into the city.

The first to receive and embrace Calles was President Portes Gil, and he fully a quarter of an hour the embrace in true Mexican style continued. Gen. Calles left the station in the auto of President Portes Gil to the former's palatial home fronting Chapultepec castle. The president's carriage and others forming a cordon escorting Gen. Calles passed between a double line of cheering crowds along the wide Paseo de la Reforma.
Calles refused to say whether he would take the position which is reported to have been offered him in the absence of Pascual Ortiz Rubio when he later assumes the presidency early in February. Two cabinet offices are said to be open to him, that of minister of war and minister of finance.

Silent on Laredo Action.
Gen. Calles refused to deny the statement from Europe that he would undertake to rehabilitate and reorganize the Mexican national railways, though insisting he had definitely retired from politics and would return to his ranch near Mexico City.

The Mexican foreign office was silent concerning the closing of the consulate at Laredo, Tex., the Mexican customs house at Nuevo Laredo, and the cancelling of Laredo's chamber of commerce privilege to issue tourist pas-ports. A brief statement said that the Laredo consular staff would be moved elsewhere.

Further Laredo Boycott.
Laredo, Tex., Dec. 18.—(AP)—Merchants of Laredo today learned that

Mexicans living south of the Rio Grande no longer would be permitted to carry small imports—household articles and similar goods—duty free side.

Notice of this latest move in the boycott against Laredo by the Mexican government was posted on the Mexican side of the international bridge.

Charges of murder against Duke Carver, San Antonio constable, in connection with the murder of Lucio
Blanco, Mexican general, here in 1925, were dismissed today by District Attorney John A. Valle. Valle had unsuccessfully sought to arrest Plutarco Elias Calles, former president of Mexico, on the same charge.

After District Attorney Valle threatened to arrest Gen. Calles in connection with the slaying of Gen. Blanco and another Mexican army officer in 1922, the state department on Dec. 13 announced it would protect Gen.
Calles on his way through Laredo with armed force if necessary.

Though the warrant, issued on a charge of conspiracy, was in the hands of the sheriff, the state department insisted it was its duty to afford Gen. Calles with protection of diplomatic immunity.

NEON ATTORNEY

Federal System's Counsel Is Under Fire.

New York, Dec. 18.—[Special].—An assertion that former Controller
Charles L. Craig, counsel for Federal Neon System, Inc., was back of an attempt to obtain $20,000,000 from the public in stock sales, was made in the Tombas court today. It was promptly denied by Mr. Craig.

The statement naming Mr. Craig came at a continued hearing before Magistrate Simpson in the case of William T. Hollingsworth, 69 year old financier and president of the Claude
Neon Lights corporation and Robert L. Kester Jr., vice president of the same concern, on a charge of publishing a false and misleading advertisement. The advertisement, it is alleged, prevented the Federal Neon System, Inc., from floating a $10,000,000 stock issue.

HUGHES' REPORT FOUND TO CLEAR GULFWAY PATH

Separation of Navigation and Health Cited.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.
Waterway experts held yesterday that the docks are cleared for action on the Illinois waterway in congress by Tuesday's report of Charles Evans Hughes, special master of the United States Supreme court, in the lake levels case. As they analyzed it the controversy is split into two segments, one the matter of navigation, the other the question of health, pure water, and sewage disposal.

In the master's findings the waterway end of the dispute was apparently left wide open, and the local officials interpret the report as laying it down cold that congress has power to provide for the withdrawal of more water from Lake Michigan for navigation of the lakes to gulf inland waterway system than may be adjudged sufficient for the matter of sanitation alone.

Separate Funds and Diversion.
In congress the controversy has been divided into two parts—construction and navigation. A few days ago an agreement was reported from Washington to the effect that authorization of the waterway between Lockport and Utica as a federal

MAC DONALD SENDS FRIENDS IN AMERICA HOLIDAY GREETINGS

LONDON, Dec. 12.—(AP)—Premier MacDonald today sent holiday greetings to the people of the United States. "I send to my American friends my warm greetings," he said, "for a happy Christmas and for the new year. I hope that 1935 will see the birth of a new era of effective peace and good will."

project to the extent of $7,500,000 to finish the widening would be placed in the rivers and harbors bill with no mention of diversion. The later report should be taken up in a separate measure, it was decided.

Illinois back in 1908 by constitutional amendment authorized $20,000,000 of bonds to build the link between Lockport and Utica. The project is within two and a half years of completion and $7,500,000, it is estimated, will finish the job. The sanitary district has already spent in excess of $50,000,000 on the canal between the Chicago river and Lockport, so that, all told, Chicago and Illinois have spent over $100,000,000 on the waterway before asking federal aid. All these figures were brought up in Washington last week when the program was formulated for the effort to get congressional help to complete the undertaking.

Studying the Hughes recommendations, the waterway experts yesterday laid stress on the testimony of Maj. Gen. Edgar Jadwin, former chief of army engineers, before Master Hughes last spring.

Gen. Jadwin took the position that a flow of 5,000 cubic second feet is what might be deemed an irreducible minimum for navigation. He held that a greater flow than this will probably be needed to maintain channel depth.

On Sanitary Study.
Gen. Jadwin testified that sanitary engineers advised that a flow of 4,187 feet at Lockport was a minimum total diversion necessary, with the activated sludge method of sewage purification and with 50 per cent of Chicago's water supply metered, to prevent a nuisance in the Illinois and Des Plaines rivers.

"It seems certain," said Gen. Jadwin, "that with too little water, the stream will be so foul as to be a menace to the health of the workers upon vessels and at terminals."

"It therefore appears that the diversion required for navigation in the Chicago river proper may not be the controlling factor in fixing the ultimate diversion, but that the need of an inland waterways system when determined and defined by congress, or under its authority by the chief of engineers and the secretary of war, may prove to be greater than that for navigation in the Chicago river itself."

Channel May Require More.
"In other words, although local navigation on the Chicago river may be safeguarded by a total diversion of about 3,200 cubic feet per second measured at Lockport, the through navigation between Chicago and the Mississippi system will require about 3,900 cubic feet per second to keep the water in the channels south of Chicago in acceptable condition with an as yet undetermined but possibly greater flow required for the maintenance of adequate channel depths and widths."

RULING FACES FIGHT

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
Washington, D. C., Dec. 12.—(Special.)—War department officials charged with the task of acting on the application of the Chicago sanitary district for a new water diversion permit began study today of the Hughes report in the lake litigation cases, submitted to the Supreme court yesterday. The section of the report recommending that the 4,500 cubic second foot water diversion from Lake Michigan should be reduced 2,000 feet by July 1, was given special attention.

It is probable that no action on the permit application will be taken before next week as representatives of the lake states opposed to any water diversion at Chicago have asked leave to present their side of the case.

Protest by Wits.
Telegrams and cablegrams urging a sharper reduction already have been received from Wisconsin, Ohio, and Michigan officials. J. S. Ashley, president of the Lake Carriers' association has also sent a telegram of protest to Secretary of War Patrick J. Hurley.

In an effort to influence the war department to cut the Chicago diversion at once, Attorney General Gilbert Bennett of Ohio will present testimony to Mr. Hurley Friday afternoon. It is probable that other diversion opponents of Chicago will be present. Officials of the Chicago sanitary district are also expected to be in Washington Friday or Saturday.

Michigan Enthusiast.
Lansing, Mich., Dec. 12.—(Special.)—Gov. Fred W. Green and Wilbur M. Brucker, attorney general, expressed pleasure today at the report of Charles E. Hughes, recommending a reduction in the withdrawals of water from Lake Michigan by the Chicago sanitary district.

Both the governor and Mr. Brucker indicated that the Hughes report was a great victory for Michigan and the other lake states which have been seeking to curb Chicago's water diversion under the contention that it is excessive and costly to other lake ports in reducing lake levels.

Hope faded yesterday of obtaining trace in Chicago to the supposed $1,000,000 "lost" fortune of George Remus, bootlegger de luxe, when state officials searched two bank vaults without finding a penny in cash or securities. But the searchers, James X. Gallagher of the state treasurer's office and Jack Rubens, representing the Cook county administrator, did find in each deposit box a quantity of rare liquor.

Mrs. Imogene Remus, the estranged wife whom Remus shot and killed in a fit of rage in Cincinnati in 1927, was the holder of the two bank boxes, one in the Phillips State Bank and Trust company, 7001 North Clark street, and the other in the Evanston Trust and Savings bank.

Must Destroy Liquor.

Fifteen bottles of Scotch whiskey, brandies, and two kinds of gin were in the Phillips bank box, while the Evanston vault contained two quarts of Old Crow whiskey, a pint of Chartreuse brandy, and a pint of Rose's gin. The whole stock is now worth considerably more than $1,000, Mr. Gallagher said. Under the law the liquor must be destroyed, he said. No scrap of paper was found in either vault which might furnish a clue to additional caches of liquor or of cash or securities. Mr. Gallagher said. The one slim remaining chance of throwing further light on the affair of the slain Mrs. Remus rests upon the anticipated questioning today of a Rogers Park woman who was an intimate friend of Mrs. Remus, and who insisted last night that she had no information.

Remus Aids in Search.

Remus last night in Cincinnati declared that "my fortune of $1,000,000 was not put away by me but was secreted somewhere by my wife." He said he was aiding in the search all he could. Officials of the Phillips bank found the liquor there when "Mrs. Holmes," as Remus' wife identified herself, failed to return to pay the box rent.

UNSAFE SCHOOL HEATED WHILE PUPILS SHIVER

A school building at 62d street and Linden avenue, which cost $500,000, stood idle and heated yesterday while 300 pupils shivered in portables erected around it. The blizzard served to intensify the situation at the Nathan Hale school, one of the most unpleasant ironies in the present predicament of the Chicago school system.

Closing Is Ordered.

Built in 1925 at a cost of $500,000, the Hale school was condemned as unsafe by three firms of engineers, who cited faulty construction. It was ordered closed last May by H. Wallace Caldwell, president of the school board. Subsequent tests disclosed faulty design, materials, and workmanship on the Hale and on the Peck school, located at 98th street and Hamilton avenue. A piece of concrete picked off the wall could be crumbled in a man's hand. Parapets and cornices were found to be extremely hazardous. It was decided that the buildings could not be salvaged, even by extensive repairs.

Complaint of Cold.

Engineers have been retained to keep the abandoned school heated each day, however. Teachers at the Hale school are declared to have voiced their protests against cold rooms time after time, but the school system is unable to give them any relief because of its financial troubles. Most of the rooms would be fairly comfortable except that the floors are always breezy, some of the teachers said. One or two were found who said they had no complaint to make, and that the heat had been adequate, even yesterday.

The only explanation that could be suggested for the continuous employment of engineers at the useless school and the daily heating of the building was that abandonment of it to the weather would soon cause decay to the point of collapse.

DAVIS SETS UP PHILIPPINE BANK FOR FARM LOANS

MANILA, Dec. 18.—(AP)—The first step in a program to further agricultural development in the Philippines was taken today by Governor General Davis in the selection of Bank Commissioner Earl B. Schwulst as a director of the Philippine National bank. Schwulst was instructed to devise a system whereby even the smallest farmers in the most remote provinces may obtain loans on crops at low rates.

Although Governor General Davis did not make a point of it, his program will strike directly at the "cacique" system. "Caciques" are political bosses who hold power through economic domination of the people, keeping individuals constantly indebted to them by making loans at usurious rates. There being no banking facilities, persons in need of money are forced to patronize them.

BOB CLOTHING STORE OF $200.
Two well-dressed bandits in camel's hair coats held up three employees in the Goldie Clothing company, 4229 South Halsted street yesterday and escaped with $250 from a cash register.

ROBBERS SLUG WOMAN, STEAL $800 PAY ROLL

An $800 Christmas pay roll was stolen late yesterday by three young robbers who struck and stunned Mrs. Richard C. Hinkel in the office of her husband's firm, the Hinkel Printing company, 214 West Superior street. Another bag containing $800 in currency was overlooked by the bandits. Mrs. Hinkel was counting the money when the three men appeared. One remained near the door while the other two, armed and masked, advanced upon her. When she screamed one man hit her over the head with a gun while the other covered Miss Janet Smolaky, 1818 South St. Louis avenue, a stenographer, and Arnold Minkley, 2532 Kimball avenue, a customer.

The men ran down four flights and escaped.

MR. HUGHES' REPORT.

Charles Evans Hughes, as special master for the United States Supreme court, has prepared a decree in the sanitary district diversion case. Chicago is ordered to complete its sewage disposal works in nine years at a cost of $174,000,000. The court is to retain jurisdiction over the matter indefinitely. Mr. Hughes leaves no doubt that it is within the power of congress to authorize greater diversions for the service of the lakes to gulf waterway than are specified in the decree for maintaining navigation in the Chicago river.

These are among the provisions of the decree, singled out from the rest because they point to the vast importance to Chicago of selecting competent men, men of conspicuous standing and ability in the community, for election to the sanitary district board. The cost of building the treatment plants is going to be a heavy burden upon the taxpayers at best; if graft and incompetence are allowed to add their percentage to the total bill the load may prove a crushing one.

The fact that the court is to retain jurisdiction over the diversion question and that congress may authorize diversions for the lakes to gulf waterway are even more important reasons for raising the character of the board. Chicago has been represented at Washington in recent years by a sanitary board which was notorious for the nation over for corruption. No congressman and no administrative officer could have been unaware of the board's well earned reputation and it is fair to conclude that the sharp rebuffs which have been received in Washington in numerous matters affecting the sanitary district are a reflection in some part of the contempt in which the elected spokesmen for the district were held.

Mr. Hughes' decree calls the attention of the Supreme court to the fact that lake levels have risen sharply in the months which have elapsed since the taking of evidence was concluded. The fact that the lakes are now about as high or higher than they were when the canal was opened would seem to be relevant to any litigation based upon the assumption that the canal had lowered the lakes. As the court is to retain jurisdiction, the fact regarding present lake levels can be brought to the attention of the court for the purpose of bringing about a modification of the decree. It is scarcely necessary to point out that an improvement in the character and intelligence of the members of the sanitary board will not weaken its representations.

Membership on the sanitary board has been regarded in recent years as a political plum and little else. The degradation of the board has resulted. Chicago cannot now afford to be represented by a sanitary board of the traditional character. The men who speak for Chicago and the central states before the courts and congress must be men who command universal respect.

FOREIGN POSSESSIONS IN THE AMERICAN REGION.

The British Labor government has renewed its objection to the Singapore naval base. At its previous try at office it stopped, the week. This base could be regarded as the key position of the British empire, which might be preserved some day because of it or dissolved for the lack of it, but the British can form a government not only indifferent to it but hostile.

Curiously enough, from the American point of view, even this government upholds the best British Tory idea regarding naval bases in American waters. It is true that at the present time no large amount of money is being spent on them, but Mr. MacDonald's associates in office are just as set against coming to an arrangement regarding them with the American government as were Mr. Baldwin and his associates.

There are Americans, mostly on the Atlantic seaboard, who advise the British to pay no attention to any suggestions that these bases be even demilitarized, and they advise their fellow Americans not to be so silly as to regard these British possessions as formidable. The policy of the United States has been to remove from its waters all the possibilities of international friction. There has been a logical development of the Monroe Doctrine and it has been for peace. The United States does not attempt to define or to limit the future as to the possessions of other nations within the American region. It can be known only that if they remain in foreign possession they have more possibilities in causing trouble than they will have under American direction or in American possession.

When islands have been on the market the United States has bought them. When they have been under native control and have become dis-

INFLUENZA AND ITS RETURN.

INFLUENZA returns at intervals of thirty-three weeks, or some multiple thereof, according to Brownlee. If this theory is correct we should lay our plans for another invasion which should begin somewhere about Christmas and last until well in the spring. The 1928 great wave began in the late autumn on the Pacific slope. After hanging around that region for a while it began a slow sweep eastward, losing itself along the eastern seaboard somewhere about February.

It is never easy to put a finger on the exact beginning or the exact ending of influenza. It reached Chicago about Dec. 1, was at its peak just before Christmas and was nearly through by the first of January. The first thirty-three weeks brought us to summer weather, and when an influenza date falls in summer weather the epidemic can be expected to abate. The second thirty-three week cycle will terminate shortly so far as the Pacific slope is concerned. The date of the Chicago expectancy will be early to middle March. Other waves may expect the onset of trouble about the first of April, and weeks after the date of last winter's onset, if this schedule proves the correct one.

There is every reason for thinking that the disease of last winter was the same as that of 1918, though the total deaths caused by it were only one-fifth the number charged against its predecessor. It differed also in that it crossed the continent and, for that matter, the Atlantic ocean, from west to east. There is no evidence that it crossed the Pacific in the same direction. So far as history shows all previous primary waves have traveled from east to west. In all other qualities the epidemic of 1928-29 followed type.

The evidence indicates that influenza is highly contagious, so much so that ordinary methods for preventing the spread of contagion are wholly worthless. Closing theaters, schools and churches does no good. In fact, nothing that health departments have done by way of prevention has had any effect on this highly contagious disorder. No progress in that direction will be made until some vaccine is found and widely used by health departments.

There are some things the people can do for themselves individually. Since epidemics of influenza have a low batting average in warm weather I would say that staying out of doors in such sunlight as his climate affords. The man who cannot get away will help himself by staying out of doors in such sunlight as his climate affords. The man who avoids all crowds and assemblages will likewise add a little to his safety.

WHOLESALE PERJURY.

The refusal of principal witnesses of the state in recent prosecutions of election crimes to stand by their previous statements discloses a general conspiracy for the defeat of justice which strikingly illustrates the power of the underworld of politics and organized criminality in this community.

The battle has gone against the forces of order and citizenship, but there should be no cessation of hostilities. It is plain that perjury has been committed wholesale, and it should be punishable. Witnesses who swear one way before the grand jury and another way before a petit jury have committed perjury before one body or the other, and they should be prosecuted on the record. A vigorous and thoroughgoing prosecution will produce some desirable result in making perjury less profitable, and the public will expect it from the state's attorney.

CALUMET HARBOR.

There has been so much unproductive discussion of the Calumet harbor project that the city will not be disposed to expect the present negotiations of the council with the Nickel Plate railroad to result in the initiation of construction in 1930.

There is no reason, however, why a settlement should not be reached at this time. The railroad seems prepared to build the harbor without delay if the city council approves the necessary ordinance. Certainly, in the absence of any grave objection to the Nickel Plate plan, the council should be eager to authorize the undertaking for the improvement of building activity next year. Navigation advisers have warned that Chicago must have adequate harbor facilities if it is to take its place as the terminal of the lakes-gulf waterway. If the Nickel Plate started the harbor in Lake Calumet in 1930 it would be completed contemporaneously with the opening of the Illinois waterway and we would be prepared for the new volume of water traffic. The desirability of starting construction on the harbor at this time should prompt the aldermen to come to a final decision.

Editorial of the Day

POLITICAL FESTIVITIES IN CHICAGO.

(New York Herald Tribune.)

They fixed up a good show for Gov. Roosevelt in Chicago the other day. There were Democratic politicians, past and present, a farmers' chorus which chanted "East Side, West Side," and enough newspaper correspondents to make it certain that the public would know that the opening gun in Gov. Roosevelt's campaign for the presidency had been fired. It must have been an agreeable occasion, for New York's governor is a personal gentleman who is always good company at festive gatherings.

Search his speech from beginning to end and one will not find a single solid argument against the party in power or, what is more vital, a single solid argument for electing Democrats. We do not say that there are no such arguments; we merely note that Gov. Roosevelt has not found them; and presumably he has looked pretty hard. What one does find are luminous sentences like this: "We do not live by bread alone, and it is to the farmer that we must look for the first necessity of life-food." Of course, there was a point to the governor's speech. Running through it was this unspoken refrain: "We were terribly loked the last time and we are terribly anxious to get in the next time." An understandable sentiment; but not exactly a conclusive argument.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to Use the Line, let the type fall where they may.

THE ASTRONOMER.

Night after night the great astronomer, Lema looked, with unflinching, wind-swept brow, calmly surveys the swirling heavens, where the stars slip by the frail earth's plunging prow.

Further and further forward still, he peers, Across unbound, unfathomable skies, Whither the silent, unseen Pilot steers; But never port nor harbor greets his eyes.

Like spindrift by the flashing meteors, Like foam-rides the lifeless, wave-washed moon; And, where the constant lode-star points, the course Lies lone and far strange and wreckage-strewn.

Like golden gleam the great galactic girth Looms on the bow, yet, as its misty diaphane, The watcher on the fragile, fleeing earth Discerns another fleeing universe.

Horizonless, abysmal, on and on Stretches the cosmic deep, till Time is lost— Till twilight shadows fold the drooping dawn, And Space has conquered to the uttermost.

The skies grow faint, the constellations blur, The weary lookout yawns and seeks his bed: (He's but a man, the giant Astronomer), But still the good ship sails full speed ahead.

OLD DOC EVANS quotes the Indiana State Board of Health warning: "Don't dress with rabbit unless you have on rubber gloves. You needn't warn us, Doc. It will rabbits wait for us to dress 'em they'll run around stark naked for an awful long time. Anyhow, they're happiest that way. Why interfere with nature?"

A U. S. MARINER rescued a struggling native from a shark infested bay in Haiti, where the sharks are so thick they snap a man's head off before he's in the water three seconds. It is understood that Sen. Stinson will write the sharks a letter telling them their conduct is really most reprehensible and that they should desist.

WELL, ANYHOW, IT'S FUNNY IN AUSTRALIA.

Believe it or not, but other countries have jokes on we have diggs at them. Bill Dowsett of the W. K. Sydney, Australia, Guardian, a friendly Anzac who is traveling around the world "making look-see," as they say out in the east, of other newspapers, laughed with great merriment when we told our pet story of two women in the London zoo peering in wonder at the kangaroo (see 64th dog in the 1929 Linebook).

After the mirth had died down Bill said he had heard a very funny story in Sydney about an Australian who was traveling in America. The Anzac was in the smoking room on a Pullman deeply engrossed in a book when an American came in and sat down and immediately tried to start a conversation. The Anzac wanted to read and replied only in monosyllables, but the American persisted. "Nice day!" observed the American. "Quite!" replied the Anzac, not lifting his eyes from his book. "Where you from?" asked the American. "Australia." "You ain't got no prohibition law out there, have you?" "No." "What do you think Hoover is doing?" "Really, I have no idea." A little pause and the American thought up a new line of attack. "Got many Americans in Australia?" he asked, finally. "Oh, yes," said the Anzac, getting up, closing his book, and starting for the door. "We've got a lot, but rabbits are our worst pests."

RUNNYMEDE, where King John signed the Magna Charta, has been purchased by a British peeress and presented to the nation. Somebody ought to buy Andrew Volstead's house where he wrote the Volstead act and give it. One place marks where Liberty started and the other where it got a swift kick in the pants.

AFTER WADING THROUGH snowdrifts and sliding on the ice for blocks yesterday, we saw a man cleaning a path past his house. Ah! The Chicago Beautiful idea is marching on.

DOWN IN ARKANSAS a man sitting on the witness stand in open court is trying earnestly to convince the judge and jury that he was not burned to death by the four prisoners at the bar. This seems strange to us, but remember that down on the hills in Arkansas many estimable citizens vote regularly at every election for Andy Jackson for President.

SHIP AHoy!

I've left my ole tramp ship behind— She's dooked in a blooming ship— Reckon I'll get me a lil home— Where I'll take my tea and a nip.

I've tried of the life o' a sailor— I'm sick of ships and the sea— Guess I'll settle down in a lil town— Where I can bide a wee—

SURPRISE FRIEND BILL.
Chicago, Dec. 12.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—I received a bill from a dentist in Wisconsin for $18 which I do not remember paying. I have not lived in Wisconsin for eight years and have married since then. Can they make my hand pay this bill?

VIRE ALARMS AT MORRIS SCHOOL.
Chicago, Dec. 14.—[Friend of the People.]—For some time I have been worried about the fire exits at the Robert Morris school at Wilton and Barry avenues, which my children attend. Will you please see if something should not be done to see that this school is properly equipped in case of fire?

LEAGUE INSPECTOR CHARLES LOUIS.
The last inspection on the Robert Morris school, located at 919 Barry avenue, on April 28, 1928, reported as follows: "A fire drill was held and was efficient, as all teachers and pupils left the building in a prompt and orderly manner. The fire alarm system is satisfactory; the exits, in number, are sufficient. Housekeeping conditions are good throughout the premises. Number of pupils, 1,000. The building, erected in 1885 and is of ordinary construction; stairs of wood. Mr. A. Schrader is principal."

THE BOLOGAPIC PRICED WILL.
Chicago, Dec. 15.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—I. Is a will written entirely in the hand of the testator valid before the law? The will, of course, would be signed by two disinterested witnesses.

THIS BITTER cold weather just before Christmas means gloom to many who otherwise would have been blithe and gay at Yuletide. We had a telephone message late last night that our Christmas present from and busted the dingy old bottle all to pieces. Ah, well! We still believe in Santa Claus.

FROM THE TRIBUNE'S COLUMNS

65 YEARS AGO TODAY

DECEMBER 19, 1864.

WASHINGTON.—A dispatch from Lexington, Ky., states that on Dec. 13 at Kingsport, Tenn. Gen. Burbridge had a fight with Basil Duke's rebel brigade, formerly Gen. John Morgan's, and routed it with a loss to the enemy of 150 killed, wounded, and prisoners, and their train. Dick Morgan, a brother of John, was captured.

NEW YORK.—President Lincoln disapproved of that part of the order recently issued by Gen. Dix directing pursuit of the St. Albans raiders across the border into Canada. Gen. Dix thereupon issued an order revoking the paragraph. In cases of future marauding from Canada across the border military authorities are directed to report to Gen. Dix before crossing the boundary.

MONTREAL.—Mr. Potterfield, agent of the confederate government and now in custody of the money taken from bankers by the St. Albans rebel raiders, is to be examined, and it is probable the money will be returned to the proper authorities. At the cabinet meeting in Quebec the action of Judge Couriel in discharging the raiders was unanimously condemned.

MUSCATINE, Ia.—The large and costly courthouse here was destroyed by fire. The furniture and records were saved.

CHICAGO.—Robert Kenney and Officers Hennessey and Clark were arrested on a warrant issued by United States Marshal John H. Byrne, on charges of aiding enlisted men to desert and escape from the military service of the United States.

30 YEARS AGO TODAY

DECEMBER 19, 1899.

LONDON.—The Daily Mail hears from a hitherto reliable correspondent that Gen. Buller, after a stiff fight, has crossed the Tugela river and that Methuen's communications have been cut by the Boers. Another dispatch to the Daily Mail says: "The Boers brought a big gun to bear on the British camp here and destroyed the enemy and after an intermittent artillery duel Gen. French withdrew without loss to Arundel."

WASHINGTON.—Today's crash in Wall street at once decided Secretary of the Treasury Gage to take governmental action toward relieving the situation by pouring in cold cash instead of waiting for further chances to buy bonds. He will deposit internal revenue collections bodily with the national bank depositories in New York for the next month, in all probability.

CHICAGO.—Sol Smith Russell was obliged by illness to dislodge his audience at the Grand Opera house, where the play for the night was to be "The Hon. John Grigby."

10 YEARS AGO TODAY

DECEMBER 19, 1919.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Dissolution of the Chicago packers' control of distribution and prices of a large part of the nation's food and restriction of the "big five" to the production of meat and its by-products were announced by Attorney General Palmer. From now on the packers will operate in the shadow of a permanent injunction of a federal district court forbidding combination, conspiracy and monopoly. Within two years they must give up all holdings in stockyards, terminal railroads, meat-packing plants, and public cold storage warehouses; all interest in retail meat business, and the packing and distribution of fish, fruits, vegetables, preserves, beverages, sirups and all other articles unrelated to the meat production industry. The agreement was signed by the Swift, Morris, Armour, Wilson and Cudahy companies to end grand jury investigation of the packers' alleged violation of the Sherman anti-trust act.

NEW YORK.—Mrs. Enrico Caruso, wife of the opera singer, gave birth to a daughter. The child will probably be named Gloria.

ROCKFORD, Ill.—Miss Alice Freeman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Freeman of Rockford, and Warren Pease Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Pease of Kenilworth, will be married tomorrow at the residence of the bride's parents.

THE VIRTUE OF CASH BONDS.

Chicago, Dec. 15.—I read with interest Judge Harry Olson's order that hereafter a state auto license will serve as a bond for motorists arrested for traffic violations. He is quoted as saying that the defendant can be traced through his license number if he fails to appear in court.

The judge evidently does not know that hundreds of persons are in the habit of having their licenses sent to addresses other than their own, offices of friends, hotels, etc., where they arrange to pick up the plates when delivered. Thus they may park in prohibited zones and violate all traffic rules, knowing that if they get a ticket they can tear it up and laugh at the law. I know at least a dozen persons who do this.

By all means continue the cash bond for speeders and reckless drivers. Let them cool off for a couple of hours at the police station after their mad rush to get nowhere thirty seconds ahead of every one else. Those who are so stupid as to let a police officer shake them down deserve to lose the money.

AN OLD WEAKNESS.

Waukegan, Ill., Dec. 17.—It is unfortunate when a man like H. B. Joy uses such loose statements about national issues. He should consider that there are many persons who have clear memories of the days preceding the enactment of national prohibition and that the average American citizen has a fair amount of common sense.

He says that he hates hypocrisy. Ninety-nine per cent of us do the same. Very few of us can truthfully claim that we are free from all hypocrisy. It is true that many officials are consistent. It is unfortunate, but nothing new. They have been inconsistent about religion, about freedom, about slavery, about war, about peace, about stealing, about murder, about our national relations, and almost every other human sin. Our forefathers have tried to prevent law against stealing, murder, rape, traffic violations, while slavery, and even against prohibitions, abolished or even trampled down to "ineffectiveness." Is it not consistent of Mr. Joy or any of us to pick out one of these laws, the prohibition law, and curse it? These old laws existed long before prohibition.

TAMPERING WITH THE CONSTITUTION.

Wheaton, Ill., Dec. 17.—More power to H. B. Joy of Detroit. No man ever uttered a truer statement concerning the curse of Volsteadism. Why do we tolerate the Anti-Slavery league and hypocrites who have developed a super government to carry on as they are doing, have been doing, and will want to do until hostilities, murder and disrespect for law will increase to such an extent as to cause another rebellion? We don't want rebellion; we want liberties granted us by the old constitution, and quit adding to it. It was strong enough originally.

Smith W. Brookhart of Iowa, supposedly a brainy man elected by good people of a good state, has been saying plenty to let people know that he is a tattletale, and to make himself more ridiculous he has become hard bodied and of the Snedley Butler type. We have more hard bodied Brookharts, Joneses, and Volsteads in this free country of ours now than is good for it, and why can't all of us quit our dirty tactics, control our emotions, and learn to love as we did years ago?

Momentous moment! The chairman of arrangements is about to read an inspired list of suggestions from the Store of the Christmas Spirit. The three gentlemen at his left are all attention—not so Mr. X at the end of the table. The gentleman beside Mr. X is out of the picture because he already has "Her" gift (purchased it from our Gift Bureau two weeks ago.) The two dapper young men next have just made two mental notations (the chairman is reading the column on our "Accessories.") BLAMES WEDDING ON LOVERS' TIFF; ASKS ANNULMENT

Former Fiancee of Slain
Falk Files Bill.

Miss Carolyn M. Hoshek, 15 years old, 2727 South Keeler avenue, fiancée of Eldridge Falk, 22 years old, who was shot and killed in August, 1928, by his father, Arthur F. Falk, north-west park commissioner, yesterday filed a bill for the annulment of her marriage to Paul C. Wenk Jr. in the Circuit court. The bill charges that she was forced into the marriage after Wenk took advantage of her depression resulting from a lovers' quarrel with Falk. Miss Hoshek brings suit under her maiden name because she never has been known as Mrs. Wenk. The romance of young Falk is revealed for the first time in the bill. Miss Hoshek avers that she had known Falk for several years. In April of 1928 they quarreled. She was in love with Falk, the bill states, so she became melancholy and depressed when he broke their engagement.

Met at Dance Hall.
Her mother sought to restore her spirits by forcing her to seek any company, she avers. She met Wenk in a north side dance hall and he became a frequent caller at her home.

On Memorial day of 1928 he persuaded her to accompany him on a visit to his parents in Lacon, Ill. On their return ride to Chicago he is said to have proposed immediate marriage. Miss Hoshek declares that she was unable to resist his plea. Wenk took her before a justice of the peace at Morris, where she mechanically answered questions put to her and went through with the ceremony, according to the bill. When Wenk took her to a hotel she realized what she had done and became hysterical, so that he was forced to take her home.

Keeps Marriage Secret.
Miss Hoshek declares she did not tell her parents of the marriage. They learned of it subsequently by overhearing a telephone conversation she held with Wenk. Her attorney said she postponed her plea for annulment while she was recovering from the shock of Falk's death. Falk's father was freed by a jury.

Miss Hoshek says she has never lived with Wenk.

Chicago Teacher Is Given
State Educational Post

The appointment of J. W. Thompson, teacher at the Washburne Consolidation school, 615 14th street, as state supervisor of vocational education was announced yesterday by Francis G. Blair, state superintendent of education. Mr. Thompson was a teacher for several years in downtown schools before he came to Chicago in 1919.

FRANKFURT JOBLESS BESIEGE TOWN HALL; WIN XMAS DOLE OF $5

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
BERLIN, Dec. 18.—With thousands of jobless besieging the town hall, the Frankfurt town council today voted a Christmas dole of $5 to each of the unemployed and slightly over $1.50 to each wife and child of an unemployed man. With this victory for the masses, coupled with the arrival of extra police, Frankfurt has reestablished outward peace after yesterday's riots, in which many were hurt, but the town is still in effervescence.

On Dec. 14 there were 1,346,000 unemployed men and women in Germany receiving full doles. These figures do not include the jobless office workers, for whom no provision is made. Frankfurt, with its 500,000 inhabitants, has 50,000 jobless. What with war cripples, the aged, and those whose savings were wiped out by inflation, one person out of every five in the city is living on the dole or on organized charity.

Late tonight a Berlin newspaper plant was suddenly swamped with hundreds of jobless. They protested against an anti-Red article in one of the papers belonging to the concern. It was later discovered that they were smuggled into the plant by communists, who "stormed" the same plant in 1918. The owners believe that today was a general rehearsal for the capture of the plant in the big uprising which the communists are promising for January or February.

Miss Hoshek declares that she was unable to resist his plea. Wenk took her before a justice of the peace at Morris, where she mechanically answered questions put to her and went through with the ceremony, according to the bill. When Wenk took her to a hotel she realized what she had done and became hysterical, so that he was forced to take her home.

Keeps Marriage Secret.
Miss Hoshek declares she did not tell her parents of the marriage. They learned of it subsequently by overhearing a telephone conversation she held with Wenk. Her attorney said she postponed her plea for annulment while she was recovering from the shock of Falk's death. Falk's father was freed by a jury.

Miss Hoshek says she has never lived with Wenk.

The appointment of J. W. Thompson, teacher at the Washburne Consolidation school, 615 14th street, as state supervisor of vocational education was announced yesterday by Francis G. Blair, state superintendent of education. Mr. Thompson was a teacher for several years in downtown schools before he came to Chicago in 1919.

HUCKINS' HOME IN CITY FOUND, BUT HE'S ABSENT

Alleged Partner Living in Apartment.

The search for Elmer S. Huckins, Cedar Rapids, Ia., investment "wizard," whose "36 per cent return" operations are now under scrutiny in Iowa, turned to Chicago and an apartment at 5510 Sheridan road last night. Huckins has maintained a seven room domicile there for the last two months.

But neither the "wizard" nor his son, George E. Huckins, has been to the apartment for a month, the police were told. J. A. Niles, reputed partner and staunch client of the much sought Huckins, is now occupying the place with his wife, who is a cousin of Huckins' wife, Mrs. M. A. Kiley; Huckins' secretary, and A. Madsen, his stenographer. The vanished investment handler was known to be in Hancock, Wis., Tuesday night.

Niles Denies City Visit.

He was reported to be on his way to Chicago to confer with his associates, but Niles stiffly denied this and delivered a severe statement in which he stoutly defended his alleged partner.

"This is nothing more or less than persecution," Niles told the Associated Press. "To cause a man of Huckins' integrity and sincerity of purpose all this trouble. The government severely criticized those who had brought about Mr. Huckins' arrest on a charge of using the mails to defraud because there was no evidence that he had done so."

Silent on "Trade Secret."
On the specific method that Huckins used to become wealthy in the last

BRITISH TROOPS SHOOT 18 WOMEN IN NIGERIA RIOT

LONDON, Dec. 18.—(AP)—Eighteen women were shot by British police and troops in southeast Nigeria, Great Britain's West African colony, during native disorders on Dec. 12.

Dr. D. Shiels, undersecretary of state for colonies, told the house of commons today that British authorities had been having trouble in dealing with native unrest in the southeastern section. This had resulted in a clash between natives and troops and police, in which there were eighteen casualties among the natives, to five others.

though it was not known how many were fatal. Dr. Shiels regretted to announce that all of the casualties were among women.

He said that on Dec. 11 a large group of natives had looted and destroyed property, despite assurances from British officials that the government did not intend to impose taxes on food. A misunderstanding about the imposition of a poll tax had already developed.

ALDERMEN FIND OF KEGEL'S KIN ON HIS PAY ROLL

They're Valuable to Me,
Commissioner Says.

An instance of a city hall pay roll with relatives of a department head drew fire from four aldermen yesterday. The object of their remarks was Health Commissioner Arthur H. Kegel, who now employs eight blood or by-marriage relatives amounting to an aggregate of $1,475 from the city each month.

Aldermen Arthur F. Albert (43d), Guy Guernsey (5th), John A. Mason (44th), and Charles S. Eaton (10th) united in condemning a practice which, they said, has so often resulted in "family" pay rolls all over the city hall.

Dr. Kegel was prompt in replying to their criticism. "These eight persons whose employment has been questioned are all working full time," he said. "They are well qualified to fill the positions they hold and they are a great help to me as a means of communication between the commissioner's office and the 1,400 employees of the department."

Eight of Kin on Pay Roll.
The city pay roll shows the following persons, all relatives of the commissioner, as holding jobs in his department:

Dr. George L. Dunlevy, 4239 North Huron, assistant bureau chief, at $540 a month. Dr. Dunlevy is the commissioner's brother-in-law. Mrs. Edeline Dunlevy, wife of Dr. Dunlevy, superintendent of infant welfare, at $175. She is Dr. Kegel's sister. Dr. Joseph Dunlevy, 4239 North Huron, assistant bureau chief, at $155. He is a brother of Dr. Dunlevy.

Miss Mildred Kegel, 4239 North Huron, assistant bureau chief, at $200. Miss Kegel is a sister of the commissioner. Paul C. Kahla, 1450 Granville avenue, water pollution inspector, at $175. Mr. Kahla is Mrs. Kegel's father.

Thomas C. Kahla, 1450 Granville place, vice president of the department, at $194. He is Mrs. Kegel's brother.

Paul G. Brown, 1109 Kenmore avenue, assistant bureau chief of sanitary inspection, at $180. Mr. Brown married the daughter of Mrs. Kegel.

William T. Brown, Mrs. Brown's son by a former marriage, infant welfare assistant, at $85. Although Miss Kegel is listed as a dentist, Commissioner Kegel says she is not so qualified, but is a former school teacher assisting a department dentist in collecting material for educational papers.

"This dentist, Dr. Lon W. Morrey, needed help and since this position was the only one open, it was given to my sister who is very well qualified to attend to the duties," said Dr. Kegel. "He will be employed here only three weeks."

The Aldermen Comment.
Mr. Albert's comment on the situation was as follows: "If the representatives of the administration are keeping their friends and relatives on the pay roll, and this would apply to all, including the corporation counsel, the city council should assert itself and prove that the council governs the city in fact as well as in theory. The time has arrived when the department heads should be informed that they cannot hide behind the council."

In which Ald. Eaton added: "This is a bad practice, and it's the same in the corporation counsel's office. It is a thing to be deprecated. It interferes

SECRETARY MELLON SAILS FOR BAHAMAS ON NEPHEW'S YACHT

Miami, Fla., Dec. 18.—(AP)—Andrew W. Mellon, secretary of the treasury, sailed from Miami for a three weeks' holiday tour of Bahaman waters today after he had toured Miami and Miami Beach in a rented automobile while city officials hunted for him in vain.

Mr. Mellon was accompanied by his son, Paul, his daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. David E. K. Bruce, and Francis Carmody, a college friend of his son. They sailed on the yacht Vagabondia, owned by his nephew, W. L. Mellon.

with the spirit of the civil service and the morale of the department."

"This is a highly unfortunate practice," said Ald. Mason. "I had not heard of this before."

Kegel Explains Their Duties.
Dr. Kegel said his relatives were serving every hour they were supposed to be at work, and that he had warned them they would lose their positions if they did not comport themselves as others in the department. He spoke of their duties.

Dr. Dunlevy is a competent gynecologist, who treats about seventy-five people each day in the Lawndale hospital," Dr. Kegel said. "His wife, my sister, has been a school teacher for ten years, and is now assisting in organizing new districts for the department."

"Joseph Dunlevy recently passed the civil service examination for inspector and was thirteenth in the list. Fred Brown is serving as efficiency expert and has been of inestimable aid to me. William Brown is serving merely as a clerk, and the Kahlas, father and son, are working their full time each day in their water pollution inspection duties."

ANOTHER MINE TO REOPEN, VOTE OF MEN DECIDES

Believed to End Strike of New Organization.

Taylorville, Ill., Dec. 18.—(AP)—By an unanimous vote, miners at Peabody mine No. 7, Kincaid, wiped out the last stronghold of the National Miners' union strike in the Taylorville coal fields today when they agreed to go back to their jobs in the morning. The cold war was probably a contributing factor.

This mine was the reputed incubator for the walkout ten days ago. With its grip lost here, the Nationalists' strike is undoubtedly defeated. The miners meeting in Kincaid this morning came in the wake of a mysterious fire last night which destroyed the home of Charles Ellison, mine boss and special deputy sheriff, during the strike trouble. Ellison's home burned while he was away.

Troops to Depart.
Aside from the apparently incendiary fire, the strike came and went with virtually no serious trouble. More than 100 strikers were arrested, but without violence, and tomorrow the first of the National Guard companies mobilized here will be relieved of duty.

Federal immigration inspectors are still in town examining the records of alien strikers.

Lewis' Lawyer Pleads.
Springfield, Ill., Dec. 18.—(AP)—Edmund Burke, chief counsel for John L. Lewis, international president of the United Mine Workers, in the present controversy with the Illinois mine union, which is raising his revocation order, naming provisional officers, this afternoon argued against injunction proceedings, that the Illinois Miners' union as "a voluntary organization, has no legal entity."

He attacked the pleading by the Illinois miners' officials, which declared that Lewis' revocation would endanger property and contract rights, by denying the "Illinois miners' union" had any rights before the law. Common law, he said, provided that a voluntary organization has no legal existence, and common law has become the rule in Illinois, unless modified or set aside by statute law.

Rights of miners in Illinois, he declared, are held by individual members of the union, and their officers act merely as agents. Consequently, he declared, the Illinois Miners' union had exceeded its authority in purchasing a building, and encumbering it by loans, and inasmuch as it has no authority in these matters, its petition for an injunction to restrain the international office from administering its affairs, was without force.

MR. JOE GROTH

Men and women without number have called Konjola an investment, for it put them back on the job after all else tried had failed. Consider, for instance, the case of Mr. Joe Groth, 1349 Augusta street, Chicago, who said of this new and different medicine:

"I was so sick and weak as the result of indigestion that I was able to work only about ten days out of each month. I kept getting worse, too, despite the medicines and treatments I tried. Finally I started on Konjola, and that was the wisest move I ever made. In four weeks my health was restored, and I haven't missed a day from my trade since taking Konjola three months ago."

ADVERTISE IN THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE

Mrs. McCormick's Friend Hit.
Answering Baker's arguments, Lawyer assailed Mrs. McCormick for "delaying the opportunity for giving her husband the money she had just by the husband's matter into the court."

There was an outsider, Mrs. Roosevelt, Lawyer said, "who refused to step out of the room even when Cyrus McCormick was being taken to the hospital." Mrs. Roosevelt, who had been agitated, came out to Santa Barbara from Chicago and asked Mrs. Stanley McCormick for a conference.

"This old gentleman told her," said Katherine McCormick, "after we have gone along so far, he would propose these little differences, that he was in turn told, in effect, that she distrusted him too much to speak to him about the money." Mrs. McCormick said she had the presence of a stranger. The stranger was Mrs. Roosevelt. Mrs. Roosevelt did not re-

Unethical Questioning Charged.
Lawyer charged that Baker's questioning of Dr. Nathaniel Brush had the effect of discrediting and making him look foolish and unethical. He also asserted that Baker addressed questions to other witnesses which had the effect of making them look foolish and unethical by inference. Baker asked Judge Dehy to hear and record his discrediting charges.

Judge Dehy said he will be filed with the court clerk of Santa Barbara county, where Stanley McCormick is the county clerk, ward of the court in 1909. The court clerk will decide whether Harold McCormick and Mrs. Elaine shall be retained in co-guardianship with their brother's wife, and their stewardship up to the time of the wife's plea for a court order authorizing dismissal of Dr. Kempf from charge in Stanley McCormick's treatment, also will be covered in the ruling.

EDGE PAYS FIRST OFFICIAL VISIT TO ELYSEE PALACE

Conveys Hoover Message to French President.

BY HENRY WALES.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
PARIS, Dec. 18.—Uncle Sam's new ambassador to France, Walter E. Edge, clad in a dress suit and top hat, presented his credentials to President Louis Doumergue this evening at the Elysee palace as the successor of the late Myron T. Herrick. Mr. Edge was accorded the usual military honors.

The ambassador made the customary formal speech in English, to which the amiable, smiling M. Doumergue, likewise clad in a dress suit and with the wide red sash of the Legion of Honor across his shirt front, answered in French.

Praises His Predecessor.

The new envoy in his address recalled the long standing friendship between France and the United States, saying: "I shall make it my duty to deserve the confidence and friendship of the French people, having in mind the high place held by my distinguished predecessor, Myron T. Herrick. I share his deep feeling for France, a feeling wrought into American patriotism by the timely aid of France at the moment of the origin of our nation, a feeling strengthened when our two armies fought side by side in a great cause, and further ennobled by the united efforts of the citizens of both countries in their great share toward bringing a new era of peace to the world by the signature of the pact of Paris last year."

"Mr. Hoover has charged me to convey his personal wishes for your country's welfare and assurance of his deep feeling not only for the continuance of happy relations between the two countries but for the furtherance of the many ideals they have in common."

In his reply the French president said:

"In the course of your mission, which I hope will be long and fruitful, the collaboration between France and America for the realization of the ideal of peace common to both governments will continue to strengthen. The pact of Paris, moreover, traced the path for the development of policies that respond fully to the aspirations of the entire world."

Traffic Prevents Mounted Escort.

Until very recently the French have always sent a gorgeous band with postillions, outriders and a brilliant company of mounted republican guards to fetch new ambassadors to the Elysee palace. But owing to the exigencies of modern traffic the only sent almost today. No mounted guards were sent as they would have been unable to keep up with the procession.

"As Ambassador Edge, after a five minute drive from the embassy, drove into the courtyard of the elegant 19th century mansion, once inhabited by the Marquis de Fougere, and now the residence of the French ambassador, he was met by the 24th regiment of French infantry sounded the "Aux Champs" the French "To Colors", whereupon a battalion of troops in uniform presented arms.

Mr. Edge was accompanied by Pierre Benoit de Fougere, French minister of ceremonies, as he mounted the red carpeted staircase of the palace's entrance. There they picked the ambassador's official family in cross and military and naval uniforms. The whole party then entered the vast marble hall where President Doumergue stood with Foreign Minister Briand.

Both National Anthems.

Another custom which was abandoned was that of a French military band playing the anthems of France and the country whose ambassador is being received. This is because when the anthems were played the strains of the "Internationale," which is forbidden in France, would have had to echo in the historic dwelling.

Ambassador Edge will now have to call on all of the ambassadors accredited by the French president. Personal visits are required. For mere ministers, however, cards can be left. The first public function at which Mr. Edge will appear will be the luncheon he is giving at the embassy next Saturday to the American press in Paris.

SCHIRESON GIVEN NEW SETBACK AS STATE ENDS CASE

Beauty Surgeon to Open Defense Today.

In an all day session yesterday the state closed its case by which it demands the revocation of the medical license of Dr. Henry J. Schireson, self-styled beauty surgeon.

Miss Sadie Holland, the principal accuser of Dr. Schireson, whose legs were amputated after an operation for bow legs, had not testified, but First Assistant Attorney General Harry A. Ash, who presented the case against Schireson, declared that his case was conclusive without Miss Holland's testimony. She may be called after the defense is put in, especially in the event Dr. Schireson testifies in his own behalf, Mr. Ash said.

Defense Starts Today.

The state medical commission, headed by Dr. M. L. Harris, president of the American Medical Association, stated that Schireson's attorneys must be ready to proceed with their defense this morning.

Most of the hearing yesterday was taken up by extended cross-examinations of the state's witnesses, but Dr. Schireson dramatically silenced the proceedings at one stage by insisting on conducting the cross-examination of one witness himself.

The witness was Dr. Paul H. Magnuson, a surgeon of twenty years' standing, who had taken charge of Miss Holland's case at its crucial stage and finally, to save her life, amputated both limbs at the knee.

Tells of Infection.

Dr. Magnuson had testified under the questioning of Mr. Ash that he had made a practice of operating in no other hospital than the Wesley Memorial, and that consequently he required that Miss Holland be moved there from the Chicago Osteopathic hospital, where the bow legs operation was performed.

"Upon removing the casts on the legs," Dr. Magnuson said, "I found areas of gangrene on the toes, the foot, and the legs as high as within three inches of the knee. I advised amputation at that time, but upon the insistence of the family and the patient herself I agreed to wait and ordered hot dressings."

Pressure Caused Gangrene.

"What caused the gangrene?" Mr. Ash inquired.

"I believe the pressure under the casts stopped circulation."

Relating the history of the case as given him by Miss Holland, Dr. Magnuson stated the patient had told him of going to see Dr. Schireson and of the latter urging her to have her bow legs straightened at the same time that he would remove a scar from her arm. She related that there had been no X-ray taken to see if the bones of her legs were really curved.

Schireson Asks Questions.

On cross-examination, Attorney Burrill Crane, representing Schireson, had carefully led Dr. Magnuson into a discussion of the causes of the amputation and left the question open.

To End a Cough In a Hurry, Mix This at Home

To end a stubborn cough quickly, it is important to soothe and heal the inflamed membranes, get rid of the germs and also to aid the system inwardly to help throw off the trouble.

For these purposes, here is a home-made medicine, far better than anything you could buy at 5 times the cost. From any drugstore, get 2½ ounces of Pinex. Pour this into a pint bottle, and add plain granulated sugar syrup or strained honey to fill up the pint. This takes but a moment, and makes a remedy so effective that you will never do without, once you have used it. Keeps perfectly, and children like it.

This simple remedy does three necessary things. First, it loosens the gum-like phlegm. Second, it soothes away the inflammation. Third, it is absorbed into the blood, where it acts directly on the bronchial tubes. This explains why it brings such quick relief, even in the obstinate bronchial coughs which follow cold epidemics.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway Pine, containing the active agent of creosote, in a refined, palatable form, and known as one of the greatest healing agents for severe coughs, chest colds and bronchial troubles.

Do not accept a substitute for Pinex. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

HOOVER WILL LIGHT CHRISTMAS TREE FOR CAPITAL COMMUNITY

Washington, D. C., Dec. 18.—[Special.]—President and Mrs. Hoover will be the central figures in a Christmas eve party in which millions throughout the United States may participate by radio when the President presides at a festive illuminating a national community Christmas tree in Sherman square, immediately southeast of the White House grounds. The President will light the tree at 5:45 o'clock Tuesday afternoon and radio listeners throughout the nation will be able to hear the ceremonies over the chain of the National Broadcasting company.

to several interpretations. Then the accused physician jumped up and insisted on asking questions himself. Addressing Dr. Magnuson, Schireson said:

"We are before a medical committee—we're all colleagues here—now tell me, what caused the gangrene?"

"I believe it was caused by an infection set up during the operation, and that this infection, swelling the tissue, made the casts too tight and that both these developments caused gangrene."

This answer definitely upset the defense contention that the gangrene was caused by too tight casts, which Schireson has claimed he did not apply.

NEW COMMITTEE LINEUP CAUSES COUNCIL BATTLE

Three members of the city council were given new committee assignments yesterday in a report to the council from the committee on committees. The report was ordered deferred and will come up at the next meeting of the council, Dec. 23, at which time a battle is expected on a minority report to be submitted by Ald. John S. Clark (80th), chairman of the organization committee.

In the new lineup Ald. John J. Hoellen (47th) was given the finance committee by the election of Ald. E. I. Frankhauser (49th) to the superior court bench. Ald. William H. Feigenbaum (45th), a staunch Thompson supporter, was given the Frankhauser vacancy on the local transportation committee and Ald. Albert E. Looscher (44th) was given Hoellen's place on the transit committee.

Places on the committee are customarily awarded to senior aldermen in service, which would have given the finance job to Ald. T. J. Bowler (41st). Two aspirants to the transit committee are Ald. Arthur F. Albert (43d), who has served four years on that committee, and Ald. John A. Mason (48th), who has been active in transit matters.

LAY SUICIDE TO DEATH.

A coroner's jury yesterday held that Paul McCollin, insurance broker, whose body was found in Lake Michigan Tuesday, committed suicide while temporarily insane. Relatives said he had been in poor health, while business associates attributed his act to stock market losses.

PERBOHNER GETS NEW CITY HALL JOB FROM MAYOR

ALL 59 BODIES OF MINE DEAD ARE RECOVERED

Survivor Tells of 5 Hour Battle with Gas.

McAlester, Okla., Dec. 18.—(AP)—The bodies of 59 miners, some seared and broken by the violence of the explosion which yesterday made a tomb of the Old Town Mining company here, and some of the victims of after damp, the poisonous gas which follows such a blast, taxed morgues to the utmost tonight.

Wearily rescue workers for a time continued to search for two bodies at first believed to have been in the mine were accounted for.

Only five of the men who were in the workings when the explosion, apparently caused by a spark from a cutting machine, had survived; two having fled to safety before the billows of smoke and gas and three having been rescued from a chamber of the mine.

Inspector Describes Scene.

Miller D. Hay, state mine inspector, emerged from the mine today after working 13 hours with the rescue crews. He said he and officials of the mining company had reached the conclusion that the explosion occurred in the ninth west entry.

"The interior of the mine was a pitiful sight," said Hay. "Bodies were found in all postures. None of them showed any signs of any death struggle. Their expressions revealed they had gasped but once, then died. Some of the bodies were wrapped around the upright props. One was practically naked, with a cable from his cap lamp wrapped five times about his arm."

Arnold Kinsinger and Joe Ponsella, two of three men who were taken from the mine late yesterday after being trapped five hours in their gas-filled prison, owe their lives, according to Hay, to a rescue team which administered artificial respiration. Frank Gonzalez, the third man rescued, helped save Kinsinger.

He Tells His Story.

Gonzalez today related his story of the disaster.

"I was working in the fifth east entry," he said. "When suddenly I saw smoke and felt a concussion. The jar of the blast slightly dazed me but did not knock me down. I tried to run up the slope, when I met Kinsinger. He was coming back and said he had not been able to get through. I went on, found I could not get out, and came back, when I met Joe Ponsella."

Kinsinger was walking into smoke and dropped. Joe and I picked him up and dragged him to room 9, where we saw there wasn't much smoke. We began fanning him with a shirt and worked with him for about 3 hours.

He Says His Prayers.

"Then I began to find myself slipping. I was getting weak in the legs and there was a pain in my chest and a swelling in my tongue. I thought some one would come to our rescue."

BOY OF 5 INSISTS HE'S MISSING LAD, BUT IS MISTAKEN

Columbus, O., Dec. 18.—(AP)—Another promising clue, purporting to solve the mysterious disappearance of 4-year-old Melvin Horst from his home at Orrville a year ago, was exploded today.

A boy of 5, who answered to the name of Lawrence Smith but who insisted that his real name was Melvin and that he had once been carried away from his home in a sack, was brought to the office of County Prosecutor John J. Chester Jr. this afternoon by County Detective Howard Lavelle.

Mrs. Caroline Ward, who insisted that she was Lawrence's grandmother, accompanied the child.

While Chester was questioning both the woman and the boy, Dr. Joseph A. Turner, Columbus physician, appeared at the prosecutor's office and said he was present when Lawrence was born. He corroborated the grandmother's story.

Sooner or later, Joe and I didn't talk. We didn't feel like talking. After a while, when no one came to help us, we believed we would die. I said my prayers, but I was not scared."

Rescue workers reached the three men five hours after the explosion.

The 59 bodies are in McAlester morgues awaiting funeral arrangements. It was announced a crew of convicts from the state penitentiary here would be pressed into service to dig graves for the wholesale burial.

Today she was awarded a judgment of $6,000 against the Gillmans, father and son.

JURY INDECISIVE IN ITS FINDINGS IN ARNOLD CASE

Couple, Still Married, to Battle On.

New York, Dec. 18.—(Special.)—A temporary halt to the sensational divorce contest between Mrs. Rosalie E. Arnold and her wealthy husband, Ray H. Arnold, was called early today by Supreme Court Justice McCook. At 2:30 a. m. a groggy jury, which had been locked in deliberation thirteen hours, returned a vacillating verdict which will not permit the couple to be divorced unless further legal action is taken.

So far as Mrs. Arnold's alleged indiscretions are concerned, the jury voted her not guilty, except of allegations naming her attorney, Charles J. Haan Jr., on which they expressed conflicting opinions. Mr. Arnold, on the other hand, was considered guilty of misconduct with Mrs. Margaret Crenshaw West in Arnold's apartment in East 67th street. The jury expressed indecision about Arnold's relations with Mrs. West at her Crestwood home.

Daughter Is Cleared.

The jury gave its findings in the form of answers to thirteen framed issues. All the charges made by Mrs. Arnold against Martha Crenshaw, daughter of Mrs. West, were stricken out by Justice McCook. After the verdict all of counsel moved for a new trial on the ground of insufficient proof. The judge reserved decision until Saturday.

In his charge to the jury Justice McCook said that behavior, formerly regarded a sure proof of illicit relations, may not prove the case today and reminded the twelve men in the box that most of the witnesses were "sailors, domestic servants, and professional investigators."

Warns Against Confusion.
"You should not draw an inference of guilt," he told them. "when you can draw an inference of innocence. What may have seemed conclusive proof of guilt once does not now. Do not confuse loose manners with loose morals."

Kenneth L. Walser, counsel for Mrs. West, said that no matter if Justice McCook refuses to grant a new trial the case will be taken before a special term of the Supreme court for review and without doubt be tried again to settle Mrs. Arnold's suit for divorce and Mr. Arnold's counter suit.

The jury's decision leaves the couple still man and wife, from a legal point of view, and Mrs. Arnold's alimony of $3,333 a month will continue until a more conclusive decision is reached.

WIFE PLEADS FOR DRY LAW VICTIM; 3 CHILDREN ILL

St. Paul, Minn., Dec. 18.—(AP)—Herself an invalid, and with three of her six children ill, Mrs. August De Vaeger of Sauk Rapids, Minn., today is asking only one Christmas present—the return of her husband, who is serving a jail sentence for a liquor law violation. To that end she has written President Hoover and Attorney General Mitchell, asking executive clemency, even offering to serve the remainder of her husband's sentence if he is released to support the children, all under 15 years of age.

Robert V. Renach, federal district attorney, who investigated the family's affairs, has added his plea to that of Mrs. De Vaeger, recommending that the man who began a seven-month sentence in the Stearns county jail Oct. 15 be returned to his family by Christmas.

Mr. Renach also forwarded today a bank draft for $63 to Mrs. De Vaeger, comprising contributions from employees in the federal building here. Among the contributors were the federal prohibition agents who raided the De Vaeger farm and seized a small liquor still.

Gaily ALTHEA burns the candle at both ends

ALTHEA is a modern. Her calendar is as crowded as a prime minister's. But much gayler!

Yet Althea's loveliness is as unclouded as the poet's May morn. No wrinkle lines, no sagging muscles, no tense lips or circled eyes give away the hours she keeps. Years ago Althea discovered Marie Earle's. Where magic fingers soothe tense nerves. Where marvelous creams and lotions exercise every tell-tale droop and wrinkle. And Althea's matchless complexion is so fair her twice-lit candle burns the brighter in its honor.

In those circles where the pace is swift, the standards exacting, Marie Earle has for two decades been the guardian of chic and beauty.

Elmer Decides Purdue Band Tops Program

But Also Gives Praise to Direct Number.

BY ELMER DOUGLASS.

The Purdue University Military band of 100 pieces presented a concert direct from the Memorial building, Lafayette, Ind., through WLS, 8 to 9, and by so doing overtopped in general interest all else heard on the air last evening. The program contained many selections calling for considerable skill, but no signs of amateurishness were noted. The band had a fuller, richer tone, probably due to the large number of instruments employed, than we are accustomed to hearing from a band. The deep-toned tubas were a novelty. And if it is true, as masses of tone blasted the microphone it but added a further kick to the enjoyment of the program.

Axel Christensen, in his program from W-G-N, 8 to 8:30, put aside his customary role of comedian and put over a Christmas program of music, reminiscent of that as surprising as it was pleasing.

I thought I would not say a word about the always enjoyable orchestra program from New York through W-G-N, 8:30 to 9:30. But I know so many listeners must have marveled at the tonal beauty of "Apple Blossom Time in Normandy," sung as a soprano and tenor duet, with orchestral accompaniment.

Quin Ryan, in his Tomorrow's Tributes readings, W-G-N, 10 to 10:10, referred to a contribution in the "If I Were President of the United States" column, to the effect that persons coming into this country with long names should have their names changed into plain English. Well, why not a law forbidding announcers, especially those of the New York brand, from giving us titles of selections in a foreign language when an English translation is available? Further, why should a vocalist sing any song in a foreign language if able to sing it in English?

LAUNDRIES UNDER GUARD; PROBE RACKET CHARGE

Several small laundries, members of the Chicago Hand Laundry association, were under police guard last night while detectives were trying to ferret out alleged racketeering activities of Abe Schaffer, who recently, it is understood, has been trying to seize control of the laundrymen's organization. The inquiry was begun after Nathan Chaplan, 2117 Crystal street, asked a warrant for Edward Steinhilber, 2845 Montrose avenue, because Steinhilber threatened to kill him unless he resigned as vice president of the association. "Schaffer is behind all this," Chaplan told police. Police said they intended questioning Schaffer.

King sent the check back as a Christmas present.

INSPECTORS ON FAHERTY'S ROLL ARE UNDER FIRE

An investigation of the salesmen tactics of paving inspectors working under Michael J. Faherty, president of the board of local improvements, was requested yesterday by the city council in a resolution introduced by Ald. Joseph Ross (40th). The matter was referred to the judiciary committee.

"These paving inspectors solicit signatures to petitions for resurfacing," charged Ald. Ross. "It was not the purpose or intent of the council that they should be used as salesmen when authorization was given to Faherty to continue the employment of sixty inspectors until Dec. 31. Faherty should be told to discontinue the use of the inspectors for that purpose."

Private contractors have been soliciting resurfacing contracts and have done the work under permits issued by Commissioner of Public Works Wolfe. Faherty, when he saw the work slipping out of his control, put his men to work to obtain contracts for the improvement board to let.

Maj. Carlos Ames, president of the city civil service commission, and several others were subpoenaed yesterday to appear before the grand jury today and tell what they know about alleged promotional and reinstatement irregularities in the police department.

Assistant State's Attorney George Lavin, in charge of the investigation, said that in addition to Maj. Ames the following had been subpoenaed: James Osborne, secretary to the commission; Miss Anna Mae Kelly, secretary to Thomas J. Houston, former head of the commission; Elmer Doonan, a clerk in charge of records; Lieut. John P. Scott, colored, of the Wabash avenue police station, and Sgt. FIND STEAM HEAT USED BY GREEKS 25 CENTURIES AGO

STOCKHOLM, Dec. 18.—(AP)—A Greek temple of the sixth century B. C., with fifty life size statues, has been unearthed on the island of Cyprus, in the Mediterranean, by a Swedish professor, Sinar Gjerstad, and his associates.

In the remains of the recently excavated palace of Vouni of the same island, dating from the fifth century B. C., Prof. Gjerstad found a room to which was led in three columns and then bolted in order to heat the bedrooms on the second floor with steam.

The results of his researches show that Cyprus was colonized by the Mycenaean Greeks about 1200 B. C.

Boston, Mass., Dec. 18.—(AP)—Not even the Leviathan was immune to harm from the storm which has been churning up the Atlantic. The giant ship will put in here next week to undergo repairs to cracked plates, officials said today. Starboard plates fifty feet above the waterline were cracked on its last passage to Southampton. It was expected its dry docking here will cause cancellation of sailings scheduled for Dec. 23 and Jan. 18.

In the remains of the recently excavated palace of Vouni of the same island, dating from the fifth century B. C., Prof. Gjerstad found a room to which was led in three columns and then bolted in order to heat the bedrooms on the second floor with steam.

YAMAKADO ORDERS INDICTMENT OF HIGH ARMY MAN

Corea Ex-Chief Accused of Taking Bribe.

BY ST. CLAIR M'KELWAY.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

TOKIO, Dec. 18.—Japan's second national bribery scandal in three months was exposed today, when Emperor Hirohito formally ordered the indictment of Gen. Hanzu Yamakado, one time war minister and more recently governor general of Corea.

The first scandal resulted in the arrest of Heikichi Ogawa, former minister of railways, on a bribery charge. The minister of education, Shiba Kobaishi, only recently resigned under fire in a similar scandal.

General Denies Guilt.

This time the bribery accusation resulted from the granting of permission to establish a rice exchange at Fusan, Corea. Gen. Yamakado is charged with accepting from $25,000 to $40,000 in bribes to approve the exchange, alleged to favor Tokio merchants.

Although indicted, Gen. Yamakado has not been arrested and will be allowed his freedom until his trial in January. He has denied his guilt, refusing to resign from the army as a general, the only official position he holds.

Refuses to Give Up Rank.

Gen. Yamakado holds high decorations such as the Grand Order of the Rising Sun, the First Order of Merit, Order of Rising Sun. Because of his high rank the government first had to obtain the emperor's permission before instituting charges.

Friends vainly tried to persuade him to give up his title and rank, fearing a bad effect on the Korean administration as well as on the morale of the army in case he is brought to trial.

Foils Efforts to Find Cable

HALIFAX, N. S., Dec. 18.—(AP)—No repairs have been made to expensive cable damage caused by the upheaval of the ocean bed in the earthquake of Nov. 18, according to word brought back from the area of operations by the Commercial Cable company's ship, the John W. Mackay, last night.

The vessel, after restocking, will return to the coast. Deposits of hard clay on grappling irons in place of the usual ooze of the ocean bottom led to the belief that a tremendous upheaval and cracking, similar to an earthquake on land, may have buried miles of cable where it cannot be reached.

Gen. Hanzu Yamakado, one time war minister and more recently governor general of Corea.

The first scandal resulted in the arrest of Heikichi Ogawa, former minister of railways, on a bribery charge. The minister of education, Shiba Kobaishi, only recently resigned under fire in a similar scandal.

General Denies Guilt.

This time the bribery accusation resulted from the granting of permission to establish a rice exchange at Fusan, Corea. Gen. Yamakado is charged with accepting from $25,000 to $40,000 in bribes to approve the exchange, alleged to favor Tokio merchants.

Although indicted, Gen. Yamakado has not been arrested and will be allowed his freedom until his trial in January. He has denied his guilt, refusing to resign from the army as a general, the only official position he holds.

Refuses to Give Up Rank.

Gen. Yamakado holds high decorations such as the Grand Order of the Rising Sun, the First Order of Merit, Order of Rising Sun. Because of his high rank the government first had to obtain the emperor's permission before instituting charges.

Friends vainly tried to persuade him to give up his title and rank, fearing a bad effect on the Korean administration as well as on the morale of the army in case he is brought to trial.

PUBLISHER SUE BY MRS. PUTNAM DIVORCE ASKED

Reno, Nev., Dec. 18.—(Special.)—George Palmer Putnam, New York publisher-explorer, today was made defendant in a divorce suit filed here by Dorothy Binney Putnam.

Mrs. Putnam charged desertion and alleged that during his long cruises after war with their minor son, David Binney Putnam, he neglected even to correspond with her. She also charged that he was incompatible and "failed to live up to the requirements of a dutiful husband."

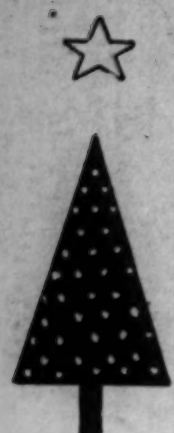

It is stated that a financial settlement to take care of the children has been made out of court. It will be offered in court when the case is heard next Monday. Putnam is said to be in Europe, but will be represented by counsel. There are two sons. David Binney Putnam is attending Roxbury school in Connecticut. George Palmer Putnam Jr. is here with his mother. According to local advice, Mrs. Putnam seeks no alimony. She and Putnam were married at South Beach, Conn., Oct. 24, 1911.

Irene Rockwell, wife of Norman Kent Rockwell, illustrator and artist, has been a resident of Reno for the last ten weeks. It was learned today, and it is said she will file suit for divorce in about two weeks.

ZUPPKE MAKES STORMY SPEECH AT GRID BANQUET

Talks on Good Losers, Big Nine and Irish.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Dec. 18.—[Special.]—Robert Zuppke, football coach at the University of Illinois, made a big hit as an after dinner speaker last night at the Duquesne university football banquet at the William Penn hotel. In the midst of one speech he referred to "good and bad losers."

"Good losers!" roared Zuppke. "I don't like 'em. Show me a team of losers about a defeat and I'll show you a team of punks. I want bad losers."

"I'll Develop Fumble." "When my men get licked I want them to be so cut up and to worry so much they'll make up their minds never to have that feeling again. Look at the south. The reason those southerners are so tough to down is because they don't know when they are licked. Travel around with any of them and you'll find they are still fighting over it when war between the states."

"They say Notre Dame built up football," shouted the Illinois wizard. "Notre Dame didn't build up football. Good roads and Henry Ford automobiles, transportation, helped build up the game to what it is now."

"The forward pass—they say Notre Dame invented it. Yeah, Notre Dame invented it seven years after 1900 had been completed. In the meantime the Big Ten invented and specialized in completed passes. And this year's Illinois team has developed the fumble to the highest degree."

"Students Can't Think." "Whose game is it, anyway?" he asked. "You can't give any game back to 10,000 students. You can only give it back to a clique. Anything students do and run they make a mess of. Students can't think. You've got to have experience to think, and they haven't any experience."

"The Western conference is the anchor of American football. Football owes a lot to Yale and Harvard, but more to the Big Ten, which was the only organization that didn't break up during the world war. I guess it was bigger than the war."

"The largest schools will, on the average, produce the best football teams, year in and year out, and you find those teams in the Big Ten."

Zuppke said he never goes to the Army-Notre Dame games. He prefers to read about them in the papers because of the Irish eloquence in the papers whenever Notre Dame plays.

"Writers use a lot of honey," he declared. "They have to fill their columns; that's why a lot of Irish have those jobs. They have imagination. And the Irish really hit high when Notre Dame wins."

Stanford Builds Defense to Stop Christian Cagle

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.] Pasadena, Cal., Dec. 18.—When Army plays Stanford in an intercollegiate football struggle at Palo Alto, Dec. 23, every Cardinal player will perform with instructions to watch Christian Cagle, the versatile Cadet ace.

Coach Pop Warner of Stanford frequently has said his team will win if the best Army back can be checked. Warner has a lot of respect for Cagle, claiming he does so many things so well that he always will be dangerous.

Cagle has been a marked man in every game, but his general play throughout the season made him an almost unanimous All-American selection.

Warner, however, is known for his ability to build a defense to stop star players. Last year, when Stanford defeated the Army, 25 to 6, Pop detailed Bob Sims to watch Cagle. Sims did a good job, and Christian was unable to get away.

Warner may depend upon the same sort of defense this year. As yet he has not designated any one player to cover the best Army back.

Seniors Will Get Call. The Stanford coach has an idea of the general play of the Cadets this year. He was a spectator at the Army-Notre Dame game, and is quoted as saying the better team lost, meaning the Army was the better eleven that day, although Notre Dame won, 7 to 0.

Pop also declared the Army to be better defensively and offensively than it was a year ago. To listen to Warner one gets the impression Stanford has no chance against the Soldiers.

Warner intends to favor seniors in the starting lineup, although some have been outplayed by substitutes. Seven warriors who will start will wear the Cardinal for the last time. However, they will be taken out at the end of the game.

TUNNEY AILING FROM EFFECTS OF RING BOUTS

New York, Dec. 18.—[Special.]—The effects of old ring bruises, recurring when Gene Tunney exercised aboard the liner Vulcania in heavy seas recently, forced the former heavyweight champion to undergo a kidney X-ray examination today. Friends said no operation would be necessary, but doctors ordered Gene to cease violent exercise.

He completes the payment for Pitcher Malcolm Moss, purchased by the Cubs from Louisville during the recent minor league convention at Chattanooga. Penner came from the Indianapolis club in midseason.

Trustees of Wabash Shift Sport Policy

Crawfordsville, Ind., Dec. 18.—[Special.]—Trustees of Wabash college in their semi-annual meeting yesterday took what they regard as an important step toward the establishment of a sound athletic policy.

They voted to make the college, as an institution, financially responsible for athletics. In the future the budget for sports will be prepared by President Louis B. Hopkins, assisted by the athletic director, and committees from the trustees, faculty and alumni.

If athletics fail to pay expenses, the college itself will make up the deficit. In the past, the financial responsibility for athletics at a great many of the smaller colleges, including Wabash, has rested either upon graduate athletic management, alumni groups, or upon the athletic department itself.

Wabash trustees agreed that such a policy puts unfair pressure upon athletic departments. It forces them, the trustees held, "to secure athletes with minor regard for their academic quality, and compels schedules justifiable only for their money making prospects."

The trustees agreed that hereafter Wabash policy would, in effect be "Athletics for Wabash students."

As a result of the trustees' action, it was indicated that Wabash would schedule games only with schools considered natural rivals. Games heretofore scheduled with large universities principally because of financial guarantees are to be eliminated.

President Hopkins, commenting upon the trustees' action, said: "The college now takes on full responsibility for the effort to make its sports successful in terms of college ideals. It does not reject the idea of paid coaches; it includes them rather in the faculty group and admits that college sports stand on an equal footing with any other department."

MICHIGAN FIVE EXPECTS EASY WIN OVER ALBION

Ann Arbor, Mich., Dec. 18.—[Special.]—For the first time in more than half a century Michigan's varsity basketball team will meet a rival from Albion college tomorrow night in Yost field house.

Despite Albion's 22 to 18 win over Calvin college last night, the Wolverines look upon the game as practice competition. Notre Dame swamped the Methodists, 55-11, last week.

Coach Veenker probably will start the same five seniors who have gained victories over Ohio Wesleyan and Pennsylvania's eastern league champs. Sophomores, however, will probably play almost all the game. Veenker expects to rest the seniors.

Norm Daniels and Hank Weiss, forwards; Hudson, center, and Jones and Ricketts, guards, will probably be the sophomores in the game. Ricketts jumps center and drops back to guard after the tip off. Jennett, Downing, and Gartner are other reserves who may play. Downing is the only junior left on the squad of thirteen.

WHOLEN CL ARMY GUES 'DISTINGUISHED'

New York, Dec. 18.—Grover A. Whalen, owner and official distinguished guests, today complained of the West.

As a policeman, he said, "the cadets were furnished with all the necessary equipment, and all escorts that game were furnished with the necessary equipment."

As chairman of the coming committee, Mr. Whalen said he was going to put the Army football in the category of "most visitors," and arrange them when, and if they play the game next year.

TO INVITE TEAM

The city council yesterday itself at the request of M. Arvey (24th) to make the annual Army-Notre game. The action was reported that New York not be selected again at the annual football club.

ADVERTISE IN THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE

RIGHT THIS WAY, FOLKS, FOR DOC'S BIG BEEF EXHIBIT

Sonnenberg and Devito Match Tops Mat Show.

Doc Krone's exhibit of wrestling beef, featured by the match between the so-called champion, Gus Sonnenberg, and Joe Devito of St. Louis, will be unfolded at the Coliseum tonight.

On the eve of the show, which promoter Krone admits is the crowning triumph of his long promotional career, certain complications had developed which, along with the weather, just about took all the wind out of Doc's sails.

It seems that some of the big boys who have often been bedeviled by Doc, and who have eaten many beefsteaks as a result of his promotional wizardry are endeavoring to add additional cold water and ice cakes to tonight's big plan.

As a result, a couple of big boys took their check books in hand, under the ink freely, and offered to donate so much money to charity if Sonnenberg would agree to a battle with either Doc or Mr. Sonnenberg both were perspiring despite the wintry blasts.

Ed White, the promotional rival of Krone, sent one of the checks to the office of the Illinois Athletic commission. It was for $5,000, and promoter White offered to give every penny to charity if his big boy, Jim London, is substituted for Devito in the match with Sonnenberg tonight.

"If London loses a fall we will give $10,000 to charity," White wrote the commission.

"Whoever heard of Ed getting so generous?" inquired Doc.

The other challenge, somewhat similar to the one London issued, came from Al Hall, manager of John Pesek. It was for $2,500.

TONY KAUFMANN GOES TO CARDS
St. Louis, Mo., Dec. 18.—(AP)—Tony Kaufmann, former pitcher and later an outfielder, has been obtained by the St. Louis Cardinals from the New York Giants by the waiver route.

Kaufmann was used as a pinch hitter by the Giants last season. It is understood here that he will be sent to the Rochester club of the International league, Cardinal farm, where he formerly played as an outfielder.

The Cardinals also announced that Ray Blades has been signed as coach to help Manager "Gabby" Street in the 1930 campaign.

There's no worry about their effect on tires—they actually protect the tread beneath them.

You can't judge the comfort, the silence, the safety of riding on Goodyear Rubber Tire Chains by anything in past experience.

Production Drop Confidence Rise

BY O. A. MATHER

The steel trade has reached a point where it is approaching a deadlock. This is the testimony of the reviews.

"The anomalous situation characterizes the steel industry, while producers are curbing operations and maintaining an expected spring production.

"Producers now are satiating the sharp decline in steel output in late October was a logical effect of the stock market and greatly exceeded the actual production in steel consumption.

"Prices of finished steel are the strain of curtailed production for concessions, particularly on the part of consumers, and their first quarter needs.

"Further signs of gradual recovery are conspicuous this week. Trade says, 'Contrary to the quarter is moderately active while progress probably will greatly accelerated over the order of this year, quiet negotiations between producers and consumers evidence of normal contract for the next three months.

"Steel ingot production in the district is off slightly, average of 40 to 45 per cent. A slight improvement is not valley, where independent production is unchanged, compared with 80 per cent year ago."

Announcement of plans for a $100,000 merger of the Republic and Steel company, Cent Steel corporation, Donner and the Bourne-Puller and yesterday to rumors of consolidation.

From New York came the merger eventually made the Youngstown Sheet and Tube company. There were other the Inland Steel and Jones companies also might be joined to join the combine.

It was reported in Chicago that the Youngstown Sheet and Tube and Acme Steel company conferring regarding a Youngstown Sheet and Tube company. Production of billets and slabs at its Harbor plant and Acme Steel is a large consumer of steel, recently has been sampled $1,000,000 strip mill at its plant on the Calumet river.

These various possibilities materializing the result was combination second only to the Republic Steel corporation, the Youngstown Sheet and Tube and Jones & Laughlin in a close rival of the steel corporation.

DEADLOCK SEEN BY REVIEWS OF STEEL INDUSTRY

Production Drops as Confidence Rises.

BY O. A. MATHER.

The steel trade has reached something approaching a deadlock. Buyers are waiting for price concessions, particularly those in the automobile industry, while producers are content to continue operations and maintain prices, pending an expected spring revival.

The testimony of the mid-week review of the steel market is that the situation is a deadlock.

"Producers now are satisfied that the sharp decline in steel output that began in late October was a psychological effect of the stock market crash and greatly exceeded the actual consumption in steel. The steel market has been in a state of equilibrium, with most of the steel produced being sold to the automobile industry and the building trade. The steel market has been in a state of equilibrium, with most of the steel produced being sold to the automobile industry and the building trade.

May Create Rebound. "Mill believe that customers will be forced to enter the market in January, possibly in sufficient numbers to create a rebound in demand comparable with the recent slump in buying. In this connection the immediate prospect of expanding motor car production into steel orders is regarded as significant."

"Further signs of gradual recovery are conspicuous this week," the Iron Trade says. "Contracting for first quarter is moderately active, and while progress probably will not be greatly accelerated over the remainder of the year, quiet negotiations between producers and consumers give evidence of normal contact needs for the next three months. This pertains especially to structural shape buyers, implement makers, railroad car and general manufacturers."

Report Conference. It was reported in Chicago that officials of the Youngstown Sheet and Tube and Acme Steel companies were conferring regarding a merger. Youngstown Sheet and Tube has recently doubled its production capacity at its plant at Indiana, and Acme Steel, which is a large consumer of semi-finished steel, recently has completed a new plant at the Calumet river.

If these various possibilities should materialize the result would be a consolidation second only to the United States Steel corporation, while if the new Republic Steel corporation should take in either Youngstown Sheet and Tube or Jones & Laughlin it would be a close rival of the Bethlehem Steel corporation.

Commerce Body Is Public's Watchdog, Lewis Asserts

BY SCRUTATOR.

Individual ambitions caused the world war, and the ambitions of powerful individuals in the railroad field could likewise cause tremendous trouble to the American people if the interstate commerce commission were not rigidly regulating the carriers. This is the considered opinion of Ernest L. Lewis, chairman of the commission, who addressed a luncheon meeting of the Chicago Association of Commerce and the Traffic Club of Chicago yesterday at the Hotel La Salle.

Mr. Lewis made it quite plain that he believed a free clash of railroad ambitions would, if not restrained by governmental agencies, result in vast losses to the people and to the carriers as well.

Abolish the commission, he said, and the railroads would find themselves back in the position of public mistrust they endured a few decades ago, with cuts and rebates would return; an immediate effect would be made by the roads to strangle the barge lines; construction would be carried on in violation of economic principles, and in other instances lines would be un-built where there is real need for them.

Vigilance Necessary. Vigilance on the part of the commission and its employees, even under the present circumstances, is necessary to protect the public, Mr. Lewis added. He advanced the claim that accounting methods of the commission have been responsible alone for the fact that investors now have an accurate idea what railroad securities are worth. The commission checks property accounts and other divisions of the reports and has found on some recent occasions that property account figures could not be trusted to be within 15 per cent of correct.

Likewise, it has been learned, Mr. Lewis said, that even under regulation some important shippers have been bringing pressure on certain railroads to buy equipment from them or else lose their shipments.

Matters of this nature were common in the days before the commission, which Mr. Lewis referred to as the "most important tribunal in the United States, with the possible exception of the Supreme court." Conditions would be, he indicated, far worse without the watchfulness of his organization.

Affords "Impartial" Agency. The interstate commerce commission now has 2,100 employees, of whom 700 are constantly engaged, and have been for years, in valuation work. Another large group is engaged in the regulation of securities issued.

Where, the chairman asked, would the people or the carriers themselves go for an impartial or experienced agency to settle disputes about service?

Report Conference. It was reported in Chicago that officials of the Youngstown Sheet and Tube and Acme Steel companies were conferring regarding a merger. Youngstown Sheet and Tube has recently doubled its production capacity at its plant at Indiana, and Acme Steel, which is a large consumer of semi-finished steel, recently has completed a new plant at the Calumet river.

New Security Issues In November Were Sharply Lower Than In Previous Years and rates if the commission were done away with? If its functions were eliminated, he said, congress itself would be forced to take over the minute details of regulating rates and practices. Blanket legislation could be passed easily, but in the courts it would be difficult to find anybody that would be able to contest the experts on valuation put forward by powerful railroads or any one that could reveal the intimate affairs of the carriers.

To summarize, Chairman Lewis advanced the idea that the big railroad men of this day—or some of them—cannot be trusted to be good boys unless somebody watches them to see that they are.

His idea, although not his expression of it, is that the "public be damned" type of executive is still in the railroad business and ready to go back to short-sighted methods to gain individual advantages, although these would be disadvantageous to the whole transportation system handling commodities valued at seventy billion dollars annually.

Following his talk Mr. Lewis was asked to comment on the plan for railroad consolidation, which has been hanging fire for years. It was impossible to discuss it, he said, other than to state that it would certainly be presented before the end of this month.

There has been some recession, Dr. Friday said, "and in the next two months there may be considerable alarmist talk. But the lowest point of the recession, now almost reached, will be only around sixteen and two-thirds per cent below the high level for this year."

Fred A. Cusack, vice president of the Northern Trust company, was elected president of the club. Mr. Cusack, who was vice president of the club this year, succeeds George Woodruff. John E. Hunt was elected vice president and Lucius Teter and Walter Head were elected to the executive committee. Thomas C. Stibbe, secretary-treasurer, was re-elected.

City State Bank Depositors May Get 50-75c on Dollar

Depositors of the City State Bank of Chicago, which was closed on Nov. 2 by the state auditor, may receive between 50 and 75 cents on the dollar, according to bankers' estimates yesterday following a preliminary report by Gen. Abel Davis, receiver.

The books of the bank on Nov. 11, when the receiver took possession, showed resources of $4,292,285; liabilities to creditors, preferred or secured, to be paid in full, $4,072,822, and general liabilities, $1,192,052.

Included in resources is $2,287,298 in loans and discounts, and in this item are loans of $235,198 due from the Cooperative society, $67,000 from the Lakeside hospital, $42,000 from the City State Safe Deposit company, and $28,000 from the City State Investment company.

Included in Resources. "For the purpose of estimating the situation it would seem safe to deduct from the item of loans and discounts the total sum of $1,113,855," Gen. Davis' report says. "Among the resources there is an item of bonds and securities totaling $997,546. Further analysis will be required before the receiver arrives at an independent opinion regarding actual value.

One of the investments is $452,000 paid for stock (half ownership) in the City State Safe Deposit company, owner of the building in which the bank is located. The building is subject to $2,500,000 first incumbrance and $500,000 second incumbrance.

Accounts Receivable. "Accounts receivable are shown at $183,652, which includes advances on bonds and coupon issues underwritten by the bank or its affiliated corporation to the extent of $123,648. These advances, to a large extent, are of doubtful value. Furniture and fixtures are carried at $28,293. It is difficult to estimate the realizable value of this item."

Three Chicago banks yesterday announced extra dividends as follows: Hyde Park-Kenwood National, 2 per cent; Cosmopolitan State, 2 per cent; University State, 1 per cent.

PERE MARQUETTE AND C. & A. SHOW LOWER NOV. NET. New York, Dec. 18.—(AP)—Two of the first three railroads to report net operating income for November showed returns considerably smaller than for the corresponding month last year.

They were the Pere Marquette, which reported $41,416 for last month, compared with $1,022,107 for November, 1928, and the Chicago and Alton, with $87,007 for last month, as against $164,956 for the same month a year ago. On the other hand, the Central Vermont, a part of the Canadian National system, reported an increase from $89,814 in November, 1928, to $112,900 for last month.

Security Holders Appeal in Surface Lines Payments. Security holders of the north side surface lines yesterday carried to the United States Circuit Court of Appeals their fight to stop further payments to the city's traction fund of 55 per cent of the company's earnings.

The theory on which the holders, representing some $2,800,000 in series 1 certificates, base their petition is that the franchise expired on Feb. 1, 1927.

Traylor Tells of Savings Used for Speculation. Savings depositors of the First Union Trust and Savings bank with drew more than $500,000 in the last year to take it to brokers' offices for stock speculation, Melvin A. Traylor, president, told 800 employees of the bank last night at the Palmer house. The dinner was tendered Mr. Traylor in welcoming him home from Europe, where he helped organize the new world bank.

BY FRED HARVEY. (New York stock list page 33.) New York, Dec. 18.—The stock market continued to wallow about in the rut today, with trading limited in the main to the small time give and take of professionals.

An irregular opening was followed by a midday reaction, that by a mid-afternoon recovery with another recession to put a period to the day's doings. Closing prices registered losses of from 1 to 5 points among the active leaders.

The turnover was the smallest since June 15, amounting to only 2,277,000 shares. The manner in which prices have fluctuated since the middle of last week has convinced the average observer that good demand for stocks is resting under the market and that moderate upturns are sufficient to bring out profit taking and renewed bear pressure. There is evidence of good investment buying each time seasoned stocks yield to around the levels of last week, but it is pretty generally recognized that such demand will not follow stocks up and that the inclination is strong to take profits when available.

WHEAT MARKET PRICES LOWER; INTEREST LIGHT

Corn Quotations Hold in Narrow Range.

By CHARLES MICHAELS.
Outside and local interest in the wheat market yesterday showed a material contraction as compared with previous days. Prices held within a range of 1/4¢ to 1/2¢ and while higher early the finish was easy, due to westerly evening up and a little pressure from commission houses with net losses of 1/4¢ to 1/2¢. July wheat showed independent strength and went to 1/2¢ over the May, due to apprehension regarding the new crop, as a cold wave is sweeping over the belt.

Considerable snow was reported over part of the winter wheat belt, but had little effect and operators were good buyers of the July and sellers of May throughout the day. Winnipeg was easy and finished 1/4¢ to 1/2¢ lower, while Buenos Aires closed 1/4¢ higher and Rosario 1/4¢ higher.

Private cables estimated the exportable surplus of Argentina at 120,000,000 to 140,000,000 bu, including the carryover from the old crop, while the Buenos Aires province showed unfavorable yields.

With the final estimate on the United States wheat crop out of the way the trade awaits new developments in the world's situation. Latest statistics continue to suggest that the world's production this year is around 3,400,000,000 bu, or 500,000,000 bu less than in 1929, minor increases in one country being offset by similar reductions in others.

The carryover, however, was the largest on record, and total available supplies for the season are 3,993,000,000 bu, against 4,351,000,000 bu the previous year. The total crop and carryover in the United States for the 1929-30 season is 1,651,000,000 bu, compared with 1,642,000,000 bu the previous year.

Nothing was heard regarding further activities of the farm belt, but the impression seems to be growing that the latter will make every effort to maintain prices. This tends to restrict selling of futures and a local operator called attention to the fact that there was so much wheat hedged by sales of futures at the present time that should an active export demand develop it would probably result in considerable activity in the speculative market when the hedges were removed. Around 1,600,000 bu wheat is said to have been unloaded from boats at Buffalo by the close.

Corn Trade Light.
Corn prices held within a range of 1/4¢ to 1/2¢ with trade mostly local and the action of the market was dominated by that in wheat, although there was a little commission house buying on the continued unfavorable report over the belt. The finish was unchanged to 1/4¢ lower. While the open interest in the December at the close on Tuesday was 7,475,000 bu, a large total in comparison with the stock of contract grain available for delivery, it is claimed that there are no concentrated lines. Buenos Aires finished 1/4¢ lower to 1/2¢ higher.

Short covering was on in oats early, but the market reacted as soon as the buying cleared, and the close was 1/4¢ to 1/2¢ lower. Cables from Argentine told of light yields being secured in southern Buenos Aires province.

Who Wants to Be a "Dim Bulb"? Not the Modern Girl

BY DORIS BLAKE.

Funny how an expression of a word will catch your eye for the first time in print one day and repeatedly thereafter you run across it!

A "dim bulb" was one of recent experience. It was what a college chap called the girl his mother wanted him to show a little attention to.

Speaking of girls in terms of light provokes a lot of fancy—brilliant lights, stark white lights, mellow glows, etcetera. But what no young lady would want to be classified as is a dim bulb. It denotes dullness, lifelessness, no personality, no appeal of any kind. How to turn on more voltage would be the natural sequence were one face to face with her negative charms.

Knowing she was negative would be a fair start. The trouble is that many dull persons are blissfully unaware of their dullness. Their dull conversations are listened to patiently. Their dull experiences are treated ditto. But they aren't sought out to tell their experiences. They're people you treat with a certain amount of courtesy, but not too much warmth, for you don't want them to get started on any of their dull recitals.

There may be some excuse for old people who have no confidence and uneventful careers to be rather dull company. But not for young ones, not for young girls with all that is in them in their young world today to keep them up.

I have no doubt if the college boy were asked to define his dim bulb

WASHINGTON SOCIETY

Washington, D. C., Dec. 18.—(Special.)—The cabinet hostesses received this afternoon for the first time in the administration, their previous days this month having been canceled because of the thirty days mourning for the late Secretary Good. The thirty days ended today and many postponed functions were given today and tonight.

Mrs. E. G. Gann, sister of Vice President Curtis, received for him in their apartment, assisted by Mrs. Henry J. Allen, wife of a senator from Kansas, and others. Mrs. H. L. Stimson had with her wives of some of the state department officials. Mrs. P. J. Hurley, wife of the secretary of war, probably had the largest reception of the afternoon, as she is well known and very popular in the navy set, in which she was born and made her debut. Mrs. Wilson, wife of Rear Admiral Henry B. Wilson, retired, was at the head of the table in the dining room and poured tea.

Mrs. Wilbur, wife of the secretary of the interior, and Mrs. Hyde, wife of the secretary of agriculture, each received in her own apartment at the Mayflower and had a group of official hostesses assisting. Mrs. R. P. Lamont, wife of the secretary of commerce; Mrs. J. J. Davis, wife of the secretary of labor, and Mrs. Brown, wife of the postmaster general, were not receiving, the last two being out of town and Mrs. Lamont being in the midst of moving into her new home.

Mrs. Mitchell, wife of the attorney general also well known in Washington had Mrs. Taft, wife of the chief justice, assisting and a number of other hostesses in judicial circles.

Mrs. Adams, wife of the secretary of the navy, with her sister, Miss Alice Lovering of Boston.

Tribune Cook Book

Table Talk.

A long time reading of this column recently upon reading a fruit salad recipe wrote to tell me how she had given such a salad to a neighbor recovering from tonsillitis.

She says: "When I prepared the fruit I put sugar on it—as you say—and as you have said. Later she was in my kitchen and I was rubbing garlic in the spoon with which I was mixing French dressing. 'Was it garlic in that salad you brought me?' 'No, I never put garlic in fruit salad dressing.' 'Well, it was something elusive, something different and was so good.' Afterwards the sugar came to my mind."

This is as good a proof as any that a little bit of sugar on fruit, before a salad dressing is added, will give it an attractive quality that it cannot have without the sugar. This is true in most cases even when the fruit is of a sweet type, as in the case of the persimmon, now much used in recipes for fruit salad. It is somewhat doubtful that a tiny bit of sugar would be required on such a fruit, but sugar draws out the juice and whatever of acid there is in the fruit is emphasized by contrast with that bit of sweetness.

BRITISH FIGURES
BARE DRIVE
'SINK' U. S. NA

War of Propaganda
Opens in London

BY JOHN STEELE
(From London Press Service)
LONDON, Dec. 19.—Modern strategy, consisting of crippling an enemy's fleet at a conference, instead of employing a dangerous method of war, probably will come into the naval disarmament conference, as it did in the Anglo-American meeting at two years ago.
The first blast in a proposed campaign to impress Great Britain with the idea that Britain
"waived the rule" and the United States is now the greater power has been fired by the Telegraph with "figures which can delegates are bringing to the conference."
Uncle Sam's delegates monopoly on figures which graph quotes. They are publicly. The only thing new about the figures which fit into Great Britain's case, and the United States may quote the same figures Telegraph, but they will mark to other countries if they interpret them the way the Telegraph does.
The Daily Telegraph's respondent lists six points of naval superiority. Every one except the first in the light of the figures that the Telegraph
Number one is the super-

The American fleet has heavy guns, against 156 for the British. The figure is correct, but the guns are heavier. America has 18 battleships, of which four are slower and less heavy than any of Great Britain's battleships. Three of these are 15-inch guns, against two of 14-inch guns, which are heavily armed by the British.
But ten British battleships are 14 inches, while the remaining American ships are 15 except the four old ships allotted, which mount 12 inch guns, against 13.5 inch guns on four remaining battleships.
Moreover, the highest speed of American battleships is 21 knots only four of the oldest British are that slow. The rest are 22 and 24 knots. The Telegraph says if they can't be they agree.
